INSIDE Traffic changes coming to square

New stop signs, still covered in black plastic, stand at the corners of the Shelbyville square as the old traffic lights still work — for now. According to Shelbyville City Manager Joshua Ray, the streetlights will blink for two weeks. The lights will be removed Feb. 7. The stop signs will be installed once the lights are removed.

Store robber sentenced to 20 years

By TERENCE CORRIGAN

Armed with a knife, on Jan. 15, 2019, 54-year-old Leslie Lamont Coleman walked into the Circle convenience store on Madison Street in Shelbyville, intending to steal cash and merchandise. His accomplice was 18-year-old Deontre Farris, the son of Coleman's girl-

Coleman and Farris, however, took much more than $78 in cash, 18 cans of Bud Light beer, two cartons of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco products. They also robbed the female store clerk of her self-confidence and sense of wellbeing, court reports

As a result of the incident, it is on court record that she suffered from post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD.) She went to counseling for over 2 years (Circle K's insurance only paid for a month and a half of it.) She takes medication for anxiety.

"Being a victim of an armed robbery has changed my life dramatically," she wrote in a victim's statement. "I do not have the confidence I did before the robbery. I was afraid to go to my own house following the robbery. I was at a point of not wanting to be in public in fear it would happen again. I lost all of my sense of security"

Coleman, who is nicknamed "Fat Dog," still maintains his innocence but a jury found him guilty on Nov. 10, 2021 and last week (Jan. 20) he was sentenced to 20 years in prison. "Fat Dog" will not be eligible for early release.

In a written statement, Coleman claimed "People have ... lied and changed their story, but I have always said I did not do these things." He claimed that his accomplice, Farris, implicated him because "I would not take him to see his girlfriend."

Coleman's sister, Donna Johnson, testified that she would provide him with housing and make sure he is employed. She also assured the judge that she would report him to law enforcement authorities if he breaks the law.

County's need for corrections officers grows

By ZOË HAGGARD

zhaggard@t-g.com

Bedford County Sheriff Austin Swing said he's maybe one of two active officers left in the County who locked someone in the historic 1867 jail off behind the U.S Bank on the north side of Shelbyville's Square.

That would have been in the mid-1980s when Swing was a police officer in Shelbyville. Swing recalled taking prisoners up to the second-floor cells, accessed only by an unstable, swinging staircases.

The next jail, located at on North Spring Street, was originally built to house around 70 inmates, Swing said. But it was built more like an "office." Three inmates escaped in 2018, while officers could not classify inmates.

"In the previous facility, they were literally sleeping on the floors next to the commodes. It was pretty horrible," Swing said.

"Fortunately, this new jail is so much safer not only for the corrections officers but for the prisoners." The new jail, located at the Justice Center Complex on Northcreek Drive, can hold up to 400 inmates. As of this week, there are 185 inmates at jail.

Despite this new jail facility, Swing says they are having a corrections officer and deputy staff shortage.

John Thayer Talbott November 30, 2021

John Thayer Talbott died peacefully at his home on November 30, 2021. He was born in New York City in 1939, the son of Harold E. Talbott Jr. and Margaret Thayer Talbott. John attended the Buckley School, Deerfield Academy, and received his Masters in Divinity from Vanderbilt University. As a young man, he served in the 101st Airborne, Fort Campbell, Ky., before meeting the love of his life, Anne, on Fishers Island, N.Y. They spent 42 wonderful and adventurous years living in Texas, California, Tennessee, Washington D.C., and Connecticut as well as Fishers Island, New John was filled with intellectual curiosity and explored a variety of professions, including finance, farming, and retail before finding his true vocation as a minister. After his studies at University of the South in Sewanee, he was ordained in the Episcopal Church. He served as rector of the Church of the Redeemer in Shelbyville and St. Augustine's Church in Washington, D.C., before retiring to Connecticut where he continued his pastoral care and service as Curate at St. Ann's Church, Old Lyme, and as an interim and supply priest throughout the Episcopal Diocese of Connecticut.

While in Washington, D. C., John had the great honor to participate in the memorial service for Justice Thurgood Marshall. The prayer he wrote to honor Justice Marshall's impact and life's work is shared annually throughout the Anglican Communion as part of Episcopal Church Liturgical Calendar.

John shared a deep and abiding love of community and a commitment to supporting those in need. He provided pastoral care and bereavement support to those in Middlesex County and served on the Zoning Commission in Old Saybrook. His great joys in life were reading and study and spending time with family. John was devoted to his family and friends be they close or far, new or old. He will be remembered for his dry wit and that particular twinkle in his eye. We will all miss his birthday mes-

John was predeceased by his life-long love, Anne Kinsolving Talbott, and is survived by his three daughters, Thayer, Kemp, and Polly, and two granddaughters as well as many cousins, nieces, nephews, and loved ones. A memorial service is being planned for March and a unless I win re-election in November, I'm enjoying getting to meet everyone and learning more about my potential constituents. I met with Mayor Bonnie Lewis, Sheriff Tyler Hatfield, and Supervisor of Teaching & Learning Danny Mooney. Please don't hesitate to reach out if I can be of service. The bill filing deadline is next week, so we are starting to discuss our important legislation for the year. We had a caucus meeting this week and talked about our priorities for the remainder of this Session. We need to make sure we pass good bills and not a bunch of junk. Our main goal is to keep our economy strong and provide a good environment for businesses and families to thrive.

Speaking of legislation, I am often asked to explain the process of "how a bill becomes a law." Sometimes the idea comes to us from a lobbyist, but often it comes to us from constituents or local elected officials. When there is an issue affecting the community that needs to be addressed, I will do a little research to see if there are any existing laws about the issue. It is possible that an existing law could be amended to address the issue. If none is found, then a bill is drafted by the Office of Legal Services and sent to the House Clerk's Office to be assigned to the appropriate committee. The law requires that I get co-sponsors for the bill from the Senate. If it's something that would help Bedford, Lincoln, or now Moore County, I usually talk to Senator Shane Reeves first. If it's a bill related to a specific industry, I approach senators who may be sympathetic to our issue and ask them to be a co-sponsor.

After the bill is passed out of the sub-committee, the bill is sent to the full committee for a hearing. As presenter of the bill, I may be asked questions about the bill for clarification about the issue before it is voted on. Often the different departments or interested parties are present to help answer questions from the other members Once the bill is passed by the full committee, the bill is sent to the Calendar and Rules Committee to be approved and placed on a calendar to be heard on the House floor — unless it has a fiscal note. Bills that cause the state to spend money must pass through the Finance Committee before going to Calendar and Rules in order to be placed on the floor. Once on the floor, I present the bill for a final vote by all the House members. A majority vote of at least 50 passes the bill. When a bill is passed in the House, an identical bill must also be passed by the Senate before reaching the Governor's desk for his signature.

Once the Governor signs a bill, it is officially law. I was in Nashville for committee meetings last week, but there was an exciting ground breaking in Shelbyville for the Vanderbilt I Solar Farm on Frank Martin Road near the Walmart Distribution Center. This $30 million investment will provide up to 70% of Vanderbilt University's electrical power needs. In addition, they are able to use land that had previously been difficult to develop because of flooding concerns. Everyone is very excited for this new development. It's projected to bring jobs and tax revenue to Bedford County. Almost every week, I brag about the great things happening in the State of Tennessee. One of the most important is our conservative fiscal strategy. Together, we have

Bell Buckle starts 'traffic calming'

Residential streets turning 15 MPH

By DAWN HANKINS dhankins@t-g.com

The small town of Bell Buckle is a busy place. So much so, town officials have been working on "traffic calming" in an effort to slow drivers down. Speed limits on residential streets are being lowered to 15

Bell Buckle Board of Mayor and Aldermen made this decision at its January meeting. The 15 MPH is in response to the research that has been done and the data that has been amassed.

According to town officials, it has been "reliably recorded" that Bell Buckle has an average of 60,000 vehicles passing through town every month. And as well, 89% of those vehicles are speeding when they pass radar checkpoints, town officials have observed.

Bell Buckle officials say, from their vantage point, it isn't really people trying to beat the train, so to speak, as it passes through several times throughout the day. But officials have noticed an increase in speeding around 2 to 3 p.m., which is when schools are dismiss-

Action is being taken now to slow folks down. "I am sure you will have noticed the increased police presence around town," Janet Robinson, town recorder, told the T-G this week. "The Town has instructed police officers to issue tickets for speeds above 5 miles over the posted speed limit-whether the posted limit is 25 or 15 MPH. The Town of Bell Buckle is concerned for the safety of our community, our traffic, and our pedes-

The new 15 MPH speed limit includes Maple Street and Cumberland Street, which lead to the rear entrance of The Webb School campus. "After speaking with Webb School officials, the school seems to be onboard and wants to work together to accomplish the same goals the town is trying to reach with the speeding issues,"said Mayor Ronnie Lokey on Wednesday.

The new 15 MPH signs for the residential streets have been ordered and are expected to be delivered in the next week. They are expected to be posted by early February.

The state routes of Highways 82 (Sawney Webb Memorial Highway) and 269 (Liberty Pike / Bell Buckle-Wartrace Road) will keep the 25 MPH speed limit with the exception of the school zone in front of The Webb School.

Motorists are advised to please be aware of the current speed limits. Drivers are also asked to watch for the change to 15 MPH on residential streets in the coming weeks.

Cleaning your garbage disposal ear Heloise: A plumber once told me the best way to clean a garbage disposal is to get a large glass of ice. Turn the water on warm, turn the garbage disposal on and slowly pour the ice into it. The ice will hit the blades and loosen any material that might be on them.

The ice hitting the running garbage disposal blades will make a lot of noise, but this normal. The water will flush the debris down the drain. You can also fill the sink about half full with very warm water. Remove the stopper and let the water flush any residue down the drain. -- D. Hansel, Houston

THUMB DRIVES: NOT FOR DOCUMENTS AND PICTURES

Dear Heloise: Your reader who suggested scanning documents and pictures and storing them on a thumb drive is mistaken about their longevity and durability. Thumb drives constantly get lost, and unless you are careful to buy only from the very best tier of thumb drive, it is very possibly defective, counterfeit or has a storage capacity different from the markings. Thumb drives are often used for virus distribution. Their file structure is very high risk and can never be consid-

Dear Heloise: While you can use baking soda to help with the smell in the litter box, I've found something that works just as well for the smell and can be used as litter, too. I found that alfalfa pellets work great both as a litter

Of course, not everyone is near a place that sells animal food for horses or other farm animals, but at my local feed store, I can get a 50-pound bag for about $13, which is much cheaper than lots of cat litter. I then mix this in with some cat litter, maybe three-quarter pellets to one-quarter cat litter. The pellets absorb the urine very well, and in the process, control the smell, too. -- Cathy Z., Harwinton, Connecticut

SAFER LAUNDRY DAY

Dear Heloise: I live in a condo and share washers and dryers in the basement of our building with my six neighbors. Dear Heloise: Sprinkle raisins with enough flour or the cake mix to just coat them. Then add to the recipe. This will keep the raisins distributed in the batter without sinking. Happy baking! -- Robyn H. in California

BUTTERMILK USES

Dear Heloise: My husband and our two boys like to hunt for game birds such as duck or pheasant, but wild game often has a "gamey" flavor that I don't like. In order to get rid of that undertone of wild game, I soak the birds in buttermilk (after the feathers are removed) overnight in the refrigerator. When I'm ready to cook them, I take them out, one at a time, and roll them in flour or breadcrumbs. The gamey flavor is gone by

I also add buttermilk to pancakes and biscuit mix to give them a richer taste. -- Diane L., Red Bank. Tennessee

THIMBLE

Dear Heloise: I have a cheese grater, but I usually ended up grating my fingertips along with the cheese. Finally, my sister suggested that I put a thimble on my index finger to save me from injuring that finger. -- Pamela F., West Fargo, N.D.

A healthy homemade soup to jumpstart the New Year

When sweater weather arrives, there's nothing quite as comforting as a pot of something savory and delicious simmering on the stove.

As you turn to hearty soups this winter, having the right seasonal staples means you'll be well on your way to having piping hot meals on the table, quickly and hassle-free.

Keep your pantry and fridge stocked with essential ingredients like onions, carrots and celery, along with a collection of earthy, zesty spices and versatile, all-purpose seasonings. You'll also need a rich and all-natural stock handy, such as Kitchen Basics Unsalted Chicken Stock. Simmered all day with chicken, vegetables and McCormick herbs and spices, this deeply flavored stock can bring a burst of savory warmth to countless dishes. It's low on sodium so it's a good-foryou start to many delicious meals beyond soup, like rice, sauces, and

To help you embrace the colder weather, try a recipe for a hearty classic loaded with tender veggies, chicken, egg noodles and robust flavor that puts this stock -- aka "liquid gold" -- front and-center. Yep, you guessed it, Savory Homemade Chicken Noodle Soup. Nostalgic and nourishing, all you need is 10 minutes of prep time and 20 minutes cooking on your stovetop.

Savory Homemade Chicken Noosle Soup

- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil • 1 cup chopped yellow onion
- 1 cup chopped carrots
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons McCormick Garlic, Herb and Black Pepper and Sea Salt All Purpose Seasoning • 1/2 teaspoon McCormick
- Ground Turmeric

MASTER CLASSES

The UT Animal Science Department has announced its Master Small Ruminant Producer series for the Spring of 2022. This looks to be a really good lineup of topics and speakers.

Quality assurance, health management, reproduction, genetics, lamb and kid management, nutrition, marketing, forage management, carcass characteristics, and parasite management are all covered in these sessions.

The speakers are experts in these areas, and the information is valuable to those who are new to the small ruminant area and for those who have been involved for a long time. There is something for everyone who wants to learn.

The webinars run on each Thursday from February 10 to April 7, with one final session on Tuesday April 12. The time for these ten sessions is 5:30 til 7:00 pm each evening.

tion and inclusion in the Master Producer database. For more information and the details for registering, contact me at 931-684-5971 or email me at jteaguel@utk.

The cost covers class materials and certificate of comple-

ANOTHER CLASS

The Animal Science Department also announced the Spring 2022 Master Beef Producers series. These ten sessions will cover pertinent topics for beef producers. Speakers from across the country are featured.

The webinars will be at 11:00 am to 12:00 noon for one hour each, with recordings for those that miss them. Dates are February 8, 10, 15, 17, 22, 24, March 1, 3, 8, and 10. Cost will include class materials and certificate of completion and inclusion in the Master Producer database.

Again, for details and to register, contact me.

HORSE SESSION

The University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture is planning an in-person field days focused on horse management. Presentations and hands-on educational materials will be of interest for equine owners of all experience levels.

Presentations will be provided by faculty from UT's Department of Animal Science, UT Extension and the UT College of Veterinary Medicine. The topics this year will focus on estimating body weight, forage analysis and evaluation, and how to properly fit tack and equipment. Trending topics in the equine industry will also be discussed with a Q and A session.

The date for Middle Tennessee is Tuesday, February 15, at 5 p.m. CST at the Middle Tennessee Research and Education Center, 1000 Main Entrance Drive, Spring

The event will include dinner and is open to the public.

All ages are welcome to attend.

University COVID-19 safety guidelines will be followed. Pre-registration is open until February 6, 2022, and is $5 per person, which includes dinner. Additional information and registration can be found online at tiny. utk.edu/2022hmfd or you can contact me. Late and on-site registration is permitted for $10 per person.

Events will be held indoors and outdoors, weather permitting. Indoor locations will be used in the event of inclement weather.

STATE VET

Here is a shortened message from Dr. Samantha Beatty, Tennessee State Veterinarian, for poultry owners concerning the detection of highly pathogenic avian influenza in North and South Carolina in wild ducks. While that's a distance away, this disease can be anywhere in a short time with wild fowl. It is greatly important here with the many home flocks as we have, and the large commercial operations that are in our area. We all need to follow her advice in her message below.

"I would like to bring your awareness to an announcement by USDA Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the detection of Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza in a wild duck in South Carolina.

Poultry owners are encouraged to visit USDA APHIS Defend The Flock Program for resources on ways to enhance biosecurity. There are also resources to aid in awareness of concerning signs symptoms that poultry owners will want to be aware of and how to report suspicious signs

I would like to emphasize the importance of biosecurity. Backyard poultry are typically housed in a fashion that allows for more exposure to wild birds. Please take an opportunity to review biosecurity resources on the Defend the Flock link.

If you have questions about improving biosecurity, please contact us at 615-837-5120 and we will discuss principles and if you need further assistance, can put you in touch with one of our field staff or your local UT Extension Agent. The best defense against this disease is a good offense!

If owners have instances of large numbers of birds experiencing high morbidity and mortality and/or symptoms consistent with Avian Influenza, please contact the state veterinarian's office at 615-837-51290 for guidance and testing assistance."

Sustainable agriculture is an approach to farming that will allow modern farmers to meet the needs of a growing population while enhancing environmental quality.

Technology plays a vital role in realizing the goals of sustainable agriculture. And Mother Nature is a big help too.

Explaining precision agriculture

Few, if any, aspects of life in the 21st century have not been touched by technology. Advancements in technology have affected everything from the way students learn in the classroom to how senior citizens connect with their grandchildren.

Technological advancements also have left their mark on industry, including the agricultural sector.

Modern agriculture bears some similarities to farming of past eras. Technology has affected the agricultural sector for centuries, and modern farmers know that's no different today.

One of the more recent developments in the agricultural sector is the rise of precision agriculture, a farming management concept that can pay dividends for generations to come.

What is precision agriculture?

Precision agriculture (PA) is rooted in improving crop yields through the utilization of technology. PA is designed to help the agricultural sector maximize resources and improve yields and the quality of crops. That's a critically important function as the world population continues to grow and the demand for food increases as a result.

What are some examples of PA technology?

Sensors are a prime example of PA technology that helps make farms more efficient and productive. Sensors serve various functions by helping farmers gather data on the availability of water in soil, the level of compaction in soil, leaf temperature, insect and disease infestation, and other areas.

Weather modeling is another component of PA that can help farms be more cost-effective and efficient. Whereas in years past many farms would need to manually assess certain variables to determine when to harvest, weather modeling technology has enabled some farmers to generate remote readings, saving time and money.

How does PA help farm-

Each situation is unique, but the principles of PA can help farmers acess a wealth of information. It might have been possible to access such information in the past, but PA has sped up the process and made it more hands-off, allowing farmers to save both time and money. PA technology can help farmers maintain accurate records of their farms; inform their decisions; make it easier to detect and identify problems, sometimes before they escalate into larger issues; and avoid potentially costly mistakes.

Technology has left no industry untouched.

Travel tips for pet parents

StatePoint)

Traveling with pets? Whether you're taking to the skies or the highways and byways, bringing furry friends along for the ride can sometimes be stressful for pets and people alike. Consider these tips to make the journey easier on everyone:

1. Pack right: Be sure to pack more than enough food and medication for your pet for the duration of your scheduled travels and beyond. You'll want to make sure that your pet is all set should unforeseen circumstances arise, such as weather-related travel delays. You should also bring with you a water supply for your pet, bowls for food and water, a leash, carrier, a veterinary first aid kit, and of course, your pet's favorite toys. And if you're traveling somewhere cold and snowy, pack dog boots to protect paws from snow, ice and salt.

2. Support smooth sailing: Many dogs find travel particularly stressful. However, you can help support balanced behavior while on the road by giving your dog SurityPro Calm Soft Chews, a smoky bacon-flavored CBD soft chew for dogs. Formulated to support your dog's ability to cope with everyday stress, these chews can also be useful for those pet parents who entertain frequent guests. ians, scientists and leading academic institutions to create chews and drops that support dogs' joint health and flexibility, healthy aging -- including cognitive function and eye health -- and products that enhance their physical and mental well-being. For more information and directions for use, visit www.SurityPro.com.

3. Be prepared: Losing a pet is every pet parent's worst nightmare, particularly when you are in an unfamiliar location. Microchipping however, can help unintentionally separated pets and families reunite safely and happily. This is especially important for jet set pets who are often far from home.

4. Play by the rules: Understand the state-by-state rules for driving with your pet. For example, a handful of states require that dogs be harnessed in the car with a dog seatbelt. Wherever your travels take you, driving with pets harnessed or in a crate is safer for both you and pets. Pets should never distract the driver or sit in the front seat where the impact of the airbag could hurt your pet if deployed.

5. Fly smart: Flying? Your pet should be in good health before taking to the skies. If you're unsure if your pet is fit for air travel, consult your veterinarian. You should also be aware that some airlines have banned particular breeds from flying due to breathing issues caused by the length of their snout. Know the rules and recommendations before booking your flight.

With some smart strategies, you can help ensure your pet stays happy and healthy wherever your travels take you.

Aiken appointed AG deputy commissioner

NASHVILLE- A farmer known for dedication to and leadership within the agricultural community, Jeff Aiken has been appointed Deputy Commissioner for the Tennessee Department of Agriculture.

Agriculture Commissioner Charlie Hatcher, D.V.M. made the announcement today. Beginning Mar. 1, Aiken will oversee many of the day-to-day operations for the department and assist in directing staff, supporting programs and services, and collaborating on policy development.

This appointment follows the retirement of Deputy Commissioner Tom Womack, who worked for the Department of Agriculture and the citizens of Tennessee for more than 35 years.

"Jeff comes to this role with a wealth of experience and unwavering commitment to public service," Commissioner Hatcher said. "He has the skills and insight to support the department's efforts to advance agriculture and forestry through economic development, technological innovation, and stewardship of our natural resources. We are so pleased that he is taking on this challenge to help lead our industry into the future."

Aiken is the third generation of his family to farm in upper East Tennessee. He and his wife, Carol, his brothers, nephew, and niece manage 600 head of beef cattle and produce corn, tobacco, and straw on 900 acres in Washington and Greene Counties.

Aiken most recently led the Tennessee Farm Bureau as president for six years. That organization is the largest Farm Bureau in the nation with more than 680,000 members. He has also served on the boards for the American Farm Bureau Federation, Tennessee Chamber of Commerce, Tennessee FFA Foundation, and Tennessee State Fair Commission. In Washington County, Aiken is known for his leadership with the

"Jeff understands the needs of the farming and forestry families of Tennessee," Commissioner Hatcher continued. "He has the confidence and respect of that community and will continue to strengthen those relationships. As we aim to build resiliency in our food, fuel, and fiber industries and bolster rural economies, Jeff will be instrumental in furthering the department's goals."

Aiken is a 2019 graduate of Leadership Tennessee and a steadfast supporter of the youth organizations FFA and 4-H. He and Carol have been married for 30 years and reside in Telford, Tenn., where they are longtime members of the Oakland Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

School maintenance amid growth

Daniel Kleindienst Maintenance Director

This is the first of a series of articles on local school facility needs. See Thursday's online story about needs at each particular school.

By ZOË HAGGARD zhaggard@t-g.com round $4 million of the Bedford County School's budget goes into maintenance, according to maintenance director Daniel Kleindienst.

School board members made it clear at last Monday's work session that, "Right now, our number one priority is to get all of our students out of portables. It is a learning environment issue and a safety issue," said school superintendent Tammy Garrett. For example, getting wi-fi out to portables deters lessons while coordination during safety drills is difficult.

Garrett said there are 750 students in portables throughout the day. The largest schools, and where the most growth has occurred, are Cascade and Community schools.

"Since school started, we've had to add two new teachers at Cascade, and we are very close to having to add another one," said Garrett.

The state will only allow, in kindergart through 3rd grade, an average of 20.49 students per teacher. At 20.5, you need another teacher, Garrett explained. Cascade Elementary is at 20.43 students per teacher, according to Carol Garrette, communications coordinator for Bedford County Schools. "It cost more to educate students at smaller schools and older schools," Garrett said. For example, Eastside and Southside Elementary Schools cost about $10,000 per pupil to educate a student with operations.

larger school, costs around $7,800 per pupil. East Side and South Side are some of the oldest schools in the County, with Eastside 57 years old and

Harris Middle, a much

Southside 67 years old. "And when we talk about Eastside and Southside, we definitely know they have a rich heritage...So, whatever we do, we will preserve the history of that school as a community school," Garrett said.

"But right now, it is our elementary schools that are our oldest and our buildings that are most in need," Garrett said.

These factors led the school board and county officials to build the new elementary school, which will be behind Marelli and near the 437 Bypass. But this new elementary will probably just be the first of more to come, according to Garrett.

"What we anticipate is another new elementary school in our future in five years in addition to this new one," Garrett said. "We've still got to build for the future because we know in the northern part of the county and in the Shelbyville city limits, we've had growth."

This new elementary on the bypass, which will house 700 to 800 students, will be large enough to get students out of portables, the superintendent said. It will relieve the portables at Eakin and Eastside, leaving Southside and Liberty left to address later on, according to Garrett.

This new elementary school is coming in the midst of much needed deferred maintenance at the other schools, according to Garrett. She has established within the Central Office, a facilities survey of needs, which includes Tim Harwell, assistant superintendent

Master plan

In 2018, the school board devised a master plan for the next 10 years. "We just want to give an overall assessment of what type of money we're looking at either right here in the present or down the road," said assistant superintendent Tim Harwell.

Of those plans, the school system has checked off several items off the

The new Cascade High School was built in 2019, while a new HVAC unit was installed at Cascade Middle.

The new Learning Way addition was also completed in 2019, while the County is in the design phase of Community High School's new wing. And, they are also in the design phase of the new elementary school since they closed on the land last month.

From that master plan, the school system lacks building Shelbyville Central High School's new CTE building and a new wing at Liberty Elementary.

Where to next?

Garrett said their next step is to finish the new elementary school. Harwell and Garrett have been touring other counties' elementary schools, such as Williamson County, to determine if building "up" or "out" is best.

Since the older schools are less energy efficient, Harwell said they hope to make the new elementary as energy efficient as possible. They are focusing on security, geo-thermal heating, and building "up" instead of "out," which are all more cost effective, Garrett said.

"Construction is very expensive right now. From what we're seeing across the state, it's around $300 per square foot. So, that makes it difficult," Garrett said. This new elementary is estimated to cost $25 million.

Harwell added, "In another layer to that, with any new school, in particular with the city limits, we're going to have to rezone." This will help distribute population from one zone to another. Rezoning is expected to happen in the next three or four months, according to Harwell. In addition to this new school, the school system

a new wing at the Liberty

School as well as expand the magnet program is looking to possibly build at Community Middle School's 8th grade. Building and maintaining the schools' athletic facilities will also be a part of some changes coming to many Bedford schools. At 59 percent, athletic facilities needs are the majority of maintenance's overall budget as discussed at the work session last Monday.

According to the "Facility Survey of Needs" breakdown list, total cost for primary maintenance is just above $23 million, including cafeteria expansions, cooling towers or boilers, replacing roofs, and updating energy management systems.

Athletic facility-related needs total to just under $13.7 million and include new fields at Cascade and Community high schools; a new softball field at Liberty; and various remodeling projects for new stands, bleachers, lighting, and fencing.

But because this is the majority, it does not make it the priority, Harwell said. Instead, building up the athletic facilities is a "dream thing," Harwell Athletic fields were not originally constructed when the Cascade and Community schools were built. Therefore, many athletic programs at these schools have to go to Harris Middle.

Plus, Garrett said they are aware of what the schools mean to the community.

"Communities love to come together on Saturdays. I think a school is a hub of a community,"

Coming off Tennessee's "School Board Appreciation Week," Garret said she was grateful to Bedford's School Board for working together to get part of the master plan completed.

"You can see from our 10-year plan, some of the things that we've done over the last few monthspurchasing the land for the elementary school, designing the new elementary school, getting the wing on Community—some of those things they've been working on for 3 years, we were able to get it done in 3 months for the benefit of our students," said Garrett.

Prison facilities across the state are having a problem with keeping employees in the jail, Swing said. For example, the Marshall County Sheriff said they had to bring in deputies to fill in their jail staff positions.

"The corrections officers, one thing they deal with that the deputy out on the street really doesn't, is you've got 200 people in jail, and you have to take care of their every need They are in our custody, and it is our job to take care of them," said At over 100 employees, jail. "Most people in jail are not going to try to cut your head off. I think some people have that perception. ." Swing said.

"No doubt it's a tough job, just like being out here on the streets is a tough job," Swing said. "So, it requires common sense and for individuals to be on guard. Man, I wish I had a dollar for every time I said a little prayer before I went out the door." But most people in jail are in for minor offenses versus felonies, "waiting to serve their time then get out," Swing said. Then, of course, there's pay. However, Swing doesn't believe the staff shortage is because of inadequate pay. Excluding Williamson or Rutherford counties, jailers in Bedford make as much or more than surrounding counties, according to Swing. Jailers make around $15 per hour, while deputies make $20+ per hour. "I don't think the shortage is because of inadequate pay, but do they deserve more? Yes," Swing said. Also, the last 2 years have not been "kind" to law enforcement, according to Swing. "Because in this day and time, you can have one officer do something wrong-and I don't care how far away it is-it's on everybody's TV set and it's a reflection on everybody,"

Since last year, Swing said, they've noticed a lot of officers on the West Coast applying for work in the South. "People in the South think a lot more about their police officers than many people in the North or West Coast. It's that simple," Swing said.

Changes in drug crime

The basic objective of law enforcement is to protect people and their property. It's a goal that has remained the same over the years, Swing said. But what's changed the most are the prevalence of drugs. When Swing said he started as an officer in the 1970s, marijuana was the biggest drug problem. Then it moved to cocaine and then crack cocaine. He thought it couldn't get any worse, but now many Tennessee counties are seeing a rise in crystal meth. "Which I think is worse than crack cocaine,"

Swing said. Basically, it's that way everywhere. Swing said there's also a reemergence of heroine since it's cheaper price and gives what seems to be a better "high." "There are so many other crimes and people are in jail for other crimes, but often it's because of a drug habitat," he said. "Thankfully, both the Bedford County Sheriff's Department and the Shelbyville Police Department as well as some other counties, we have the 17th Judicial Drug Task Force and that's all they do," said Swing. "They do a good job, but it's so overwhelming.'

These drug cases aren't necessarily new to law enforcement, nor will they end. As long as there's demand, there will always be a supply of drugs, according to Swing.

More deputies Swing says adding more

In addition to more deputies for better law enforcement presence, Swing said they need more patrol cars. He admits it's an "expensive ticket," but their patrol cars drive anywhere from 1,500 to 2,000 miles a day.

Champs' defense controls Vikings

By CHRIS SIERS sports@t-g.com

In their previous meeting, the Community Vikings dealt the Cascade Champions a dagger with a last-second game-winning shot by Maki Fleming.

During Friday night's Round 2 of the Battle of Bedford, the Champions (14-6, 2-1) made sure there would be no last second shot with a lockdown defensive effort in a 44-32 victory over the Vikings (9-14, Cascade coach Chris Lawson preached to his team about getting off to a hot start.

His team did just that with a 22-7 differential in the first quarter.

"We talked about the first three minutes of the game would set the tempo for how the game would go. We worked hard on how to guard them. I thought our guys did a great job," Lawson said.

That defensive effort was evident from the opening tip-off to the final buzzer.

Relying on senior big man Justis Carter in the paint, Cascade was able to work the ball around in the half court and connected on three 3-pointers in the opening frame, two of which came from Lucas Clanton.

But after racking up 22 points, the Champs' offense struggled to recapture the early efficiency.

Community also continued to struggle shooting. "We've had those nights. It's just not falling. Everybody had an equal opportunity to shoot the basketball. It just was not going in," Viking coach

After holding Cascade scoreless through the first five minutes of regulation, the Viqueens were able to stretch that momentum through all four quarters in a 60-36 victory.

offense a lot of the time. We hang our hat on defense. We try to hold teams under 40 points every night," Pierce said. Knowing the Viqueens had a decisive size advantage, Pierce directed his squad to work an insideout scheme, which helped Community (16-7, 4-0) establish control of the game's momentum in the first half. "They always play tough defense. They had a big fourth quarter that really hurt us. They're so physical and are a lot bigger than we are. We struggle offensively going against that," Lady Champion coach Kendall Hampton said.

The one-two punch of Haley Mitchell and M.J. Simmons in the first quarter combined for 11 of the Viqueens' 16 first-quarter points.

"We're an inside-out offense. They (Cascade) forced us to shoot a lot of outside shots. We struggled to hit them at times, but we finally got the ball inside a few times and then hit a few shots outside in the second half," Pierce said.

Trailing 26-14 at the half, Cascade adjusted well in the third quarter and took off on a 7-2 run to open the quarter. That run saw the Lady Champs cut the Viqueen lead to seven points a the 5:16 point of the third quarter when Caroline Stone hit a shot and drew the foul. She connected on the Community was able to work its inside offense and with Simmons banking six in the paint, it was Zoey Dixon who started heating up from the arc.

Community closed the game with a 20-point effort in the fourth quarter, highlighted by another pair of triples by Dixon. The Viqueens connected ments that helped continue to stymie the Champions on the offensive end of the court.

"The effort on the defensive end was really good, especially in the second half. We talked about at halftime making a couple of adjustments and the guys for the most part executed. I was really proud of how they fought in the second half," Davis said.

Cascade managed just two field goals in the third quarter, baskets by Carter and Jackson Davis, which allowed the Vikings to cut the Cascade lead to 14 points by the start of the fourth.

With the defensive nature of the game continuing to take hold, the game turned into a physical melee throughout the remainder of regulation.

"It's good for kids to be in an atmosphere like this. Every kid except Stratton (Lovvorn) and Maki (Fleming) have never played in this type of atmosphere. You can't simulate it. I think the experience of that will be really good for those young kids," Davis

Even with an 11-9 run in the fourth, Cascade was able to cling to the double digit victory to maintain the hold on first-place in the District 7-AA standings.

"At this point in the season, that gave us control of the first place spot. If Community had one, they would have had control of the first place spot. We did what we had to do. It was a really big win for us," Lawson said. While Community saw eight players pencil their name in the scoring column, Lovvorn was the lone player to reach double figures for the Purple and Gold, six of which came in the fourth quarter.

On the flip side, Lawson was pleased with the defensive effort that allowed just 32 points in Friday night's rivalry matchup.

Moderna vaccine gains full approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. health regulators on Monday granted full approval to Moderna's COVID-19 vaccine, a shot that's already been given to tens of millions of Americans since its emergency authoripleted the same rigorous, time-consuming review of Moderna's shot as dozens of other long-established vaccines. The decision was bolstered by real-world

Public health advocates initially hoped the regulatory distinction would boost public confidence in the shots. But there was no discernable bump in vaccinations after the Pfizer approval, which was heavily promoted by President Joe Biden and other federal officials. Still, regulators said Monday they hoped the extra endorsement would encour-

Vaccinations peaked last spring at more than 3 million per day, and now average less than 750,000 per day. The pace of vaccinations briefly spiked following news of the omicron variant in December but has since slowed again.

Williamson Medical receives six Women's Choice Awards

FRANKLIN, Tenn. -Williamson Medical Center (WMC) has been named as one of America's Best for Women's Services, Breast Centers, Obstetrics, Heart Care, Patient Safety, and Mammography Imaging Centers by the Women's Choice Award®, America's trusted referral source for the best in healthcare. The 2022 awards place WMC among the top U.S. hospitals in the categories awarded.

"WMC is proud to be recognized among the 2022 America's best hospitals in six categories by the Women's Choice Awards®," said Phil Mazzuca, CEO. "These designations spotlight the professionalism and commitment to exceptional care demonstrated every day by the health providers and care teams at

WMC. We are honored to serve our community with excellence, now and in the

The America's Best Hospitals for Women's Services award signifies that WMC is in the top 2% of 4,728 U.S. hospitals reviewed. WMC is one of 264 award recipients representing the hospitals that have met the highest standards for women's services across the U.S. achieving the distinction by meeting criteria including offering a dedicated center for breast care designated as a Breast Imaging Center of Excellence (BICOE), comprehensive obstetrics services, a Level III or Level IV (the highest) neonatal intensive care unit (NICU), a full range of cardiovascular services and with a Patient Recommendation

The America's Best Breast Centers award signifies that WMC is in the top 2% of 4,728 U.S. hospitals offering breast care services. The list of 466 award winners, including WMC, represents breast centers that have met the highest standards of breast care in the nation as set by the National Accreditation Program for Breast Centers (NAPBC) or the National Quality Measures for Breast Centers(NQMBC)andcarry the Breast Imaging Center of Excellence (BICOE) seal from the American College of Radiology. The methodology used to select WMC as one of America's Comprehensive Breast Centers is unique in that it evaluates Hospital Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (HCAHPS) survey results along with primary research about women's healthcare preferences.

The America's Best Hospitals for Obstetrics award places WMC in the top 7% of 4,728 U.S. hospitals offering obstetrics. The center is one of 426 award recipients representing the hospitals that have met the highest standards for obstetrics across the U.S. award recognizing excellence in obstetric services based on robust criteria that consider patient satisfaction and clinical excellence.

The America's Best Hospitals for Heart Care award, recognizing comprehensive care to treat heart disease, the nation's leading cause of death for women, acknowledges WMC in the top 21% of 4,728 U.S. hospitals offering heart care services. The health system is one of 327 award recipients representing the hospitals that have met

The America's Best Hospitals for Patient Safety award lists WMC in the top 2% of 4,728 U.S. hospitals for patient safety in safe surgery practices and lower rates for complications and infections. The center is one of 305 award recipients representing the hospitals that have met the highest standards for patient safety. The methodology used to select America's Best Hospitals for Patient Safety is unique in that it evaluates 12 Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' (CMS) measures of infections and complications, Hospital Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (HCAHPS) survey results along with primary research about women's healthcare preferences. It is the only award recognizing excellence in patient safety based on robust criteria that consider patient satisfaction and clinical excellence. The America's Best Mammogram Imaging Centers list of 1,628 award winners, including WMC, represents imaging centers that carry the Breast Imaging Center of Excellence (BICOE) seal from the American College of Radiology and are accredited for Mammograms (MAP).

Williamson Medical Center offers comprehensive inpatient and outpatient services, 24-hour emergency care, preventive health screenings and wellness

Motlow Mechatronics reaccredited

The Mechatronics program at Motlow State Community College recently achieved reaccreditation by the Association of Technology, Management, and Applied Engineering (ATMAE). Motlow has proudly been accredited by the ATMAE since 2015.

"Accreditation proves Motlow's Mechatronics program meets established standards in providing the best possible learning experience to our students. It indicates that Motlow has a vested interest in ongoing educational improvement, said Walter McCord, Dean of Career and Technical Programs at Motlow. "It is quality assurance from the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) that says Motlow meets a strict and recognized set of service and operational standards."

Why This Matters

Accreditation sets standards for academic accreditation of applied engineering, engineering technology, and other technologyrelated areas. It requires evaluation against a set of standards to measure program goals and objectives, promotion of academic integrity, and proper methods of assessment. It is an ongoing process to ensure that Motlow not only initially passes a quality review, but also maintains and continues to improve upon those standards.

Motlow is one of only seven community colleges in Tennessee to receive accreditation from ATMAE. The ATMAE certified Motlow Mechatronics program provides highly recruited graduates for business and industry. Accreditation presently gives consideration to both qualitative and quantitative criteria as set forth in the ATMAE Accreditation Handbook (2021.)

provides:

- Hands-on systematic training in automation technology and mechatronic systems

The track has separate lanes for walkers and runners.

Upgrades continue in Shelbyville rec facilities

By DAVID MELSON

dmelson@t-g.com

At first glance it may seem like nothing new is going on in Shelbyville's park system.

But look more closely and a great deal of progress is happening, according to Parks & Recreation Director Mike Alsup.

The biggest change is the newly-finished playground in H.V. Griffin Park. The facility, provided to the city for free through a BlueCrossBlueShield program. Although covering a smaller footprint, it has many activities packed into its boundaries and also includes an adjoining activity area for physically challenged adults.

A handicapped-accessible restroom is to be built soon near the playground. Improvements have also been made to the skate park. New LED lighting has been added around the tennis courts and baseball fields. The lights are brighter but consume less electricity. "I'm confident we're now meeting TSSAA (Tennessee Secondary Schools Association) standards," Alsup said. Improvements have also been made to the skate park.

Indoors, more upgrades enhance Shelbyville

Recreation Center. Adult walkers are enjoying the new track surface on the second floor. A rubberized surface has replaced the previous carpeted floor, making it softer and bouncier, and likely easier on walkers' and runners' legs and feet. New LED lighting has been added around the tennis courts and baseball fields. The lights are brighter but consume less electricity.

"I'm confident we're now meeting TSSAA (Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association) standards," Alsup said.

New cardio equipment has been also been added in the gym.

Roads at Never Rest Park will be repaved in March or April. A dog park is coming, possibly within the next year, on an area of a little over an acre to the west of the tennis courts. Fencing, trees and a climbing area may be added.

More changes are in the plans, some already in the works and some dependent on funding decisions by Shelbyville City Council.

A master plan developed some years back included a large proposed expansion in both land area and activities. "A lot of wheat we've done is replacing the maintainence-type things,"Alsup said. Suggestions for new programs and facilities were made at three meetings a few weeks ago,

Rec Center track, replacing lights at ball fields,

Alsup said. Those included:

- A splash pad.
- Walking trails throughout the city in addition to the one at H.V. Griffin Park.
- A soccer field complex at Griffin, an area
- for which an extension of the existing walking trail would also be incorporated. More tennis courts.
- Miniature golf. A course was once located at the park. Some programs could use school gyms and the surrounding areas, Alsup said. "We would just have to see if a more feasible agreement can be reached. The city can use school gyms. That agreement could be

Some issues involving liability would have to be worked out, Alsup said.

An outdoor adult fitness park has been constructed next to the new children's playground at H.V. Griffin Park.

The skate park was recently upgraded.
