Retirement salute planned for Keith Cerny

Keith R. Cerny

STAFF REPORT

ALAMOSA — Longtime San Luis Valley newspaper publisher Keith Cerny will be honored with a retirement party Friday, Sept. 20 from 4-6 p.m. on the patio of Knee Knockers restaurant at Cattails Golf Course.

Cerny had been publisher of eight publications in the Valley since 1992, retiring in August 2024. He cut his journalistic teeth as a sophomore in high school in 1972, writing sports for his hometown newspaper, the Schuyler (Neb) Sun.

He later served as a writer, photographer and newspaper manager in Ogallala, Neb., Wisner, Neb., Lusk, Wyo., and Evanston, Wyo., winning dozens of awards for his writing and photography in Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado, including a first-place national award for coverage of agriculture while in Wisner.

Cerny was also a division manager for News Media Corporation for 30 years, overseeing newspapers in Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, and Oregon.

Over the years, he also served as a volunteer firefighter in Wisner and Lusk, for a combined 10 years.

After coming to Alamosa in 1992, Keith was named Alamosa Citizen of the Year by the Alamosa County Chamber of Commerce in 1996, a board he served as chairman of for 1 ½ years and served on for 13 years. The Alamosa Masonic Lodge also named him "outstanding citizen" in 1993.

He was awarded the prestigious Adams State Billy Adams Award in 2000. A 20-plus-year member of the Adams State Grizzly Club board, he and his wife Debbie were named Grizzly Club Members of the Year in 2011. He was also a member of the Adams State Foundation Board for 20 years.

Cerny has served on the ASU Athletics Hall of Fame board for several years and was master of ceremonies for their annual awards ceremony numerous times.

Cerny was a six-year member of the Colorado Press Association Board of Directors and served as president of that board in 2015-16.

He also received the Honorary Chapter of Farmer Award by the Alamosa High School FFA chapter twice and was awarded the Sportsman of the Year by the San

The Creede Arts Council is hosting its 5th annual Steamroller Printmaking Event from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sept. 21.

CAC's Steamroller Printmaking Event is Sept. 21

CONTRIBUTED

CREEDE — The Creede Arts Council is hosting its 5th annual Steamroller Printmaking Event from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sept. 21. This is an outdoor printmaking event held in Creede.

Artists will have created and carved wooden boards with their own original designs. The day of the event, the boards are inked by hand and placed on the street with paper placed over the boards. Then, a Steamroller (roadbed compactor) will roll over them, pressing the paper onto the board. The resulting outcome is an original fine art print!

Each artist's print will be available for purchase during and after the event, with 50% of profits returning to nonprofit missions of the Creede Arts Council. Local artists participating will include Colleen DeSanto, Jody Stroh, and Amanda Charlton Hurley.

For more information, contact Creede Arts Council at creedearts@outlook.com. To learn more about the Steamroller Printmaking Event, follow us on Facebook or visit our website at www.creedeartscouncil.com/steamroller-printmaking.

Cruisin' the Canyon Car Show rolls into fall this weekend

By LYNDIE FERRELL

CREEDE — As the trees within the San Juan and La Garita Mountains change into their fall attire, the 16th Annual Cruisin' the Canyon Car Show will be hitting Main Street in Creede on Saturday. For the past 16 years, this popular event has brought car enthusiasts from all over the U.S. to add a spark of the past to the brilliance of fall in this small mountain town.

Sun glinting off of chrome combined with tunes from the 40's, 50's, 60's makes for the perfect scene as people wander among ever year, make and model of vehicles throughout downtown Creede. The event began when the owners of the Holy Moses Gift Shop, Vicki and Nick Kulyk, decided it was time to host a car show in Creede to boost the economy during a slow season in the small town.

The show is scheduled every year to correspond with the changing fall colors and to bring guests to the sleepy town right before the onset of hunting seasons in the area. People enjoy a day full of

OBITUARIES

Richard Earl Baker

Richard Earl Baker, a cherished husband, brother, and friend, passed away on September 6, 2024, at the age of 80, at the Rio Grande Hospital, in the peaceful town of Del Norte, Colo. Born on May 4, 1944, in Muscatine, Iowa, Richard grew up with a spirit of adventure and a heart full of kindness that would define his entire life.

Richard, known affectionately as Rich by his loved ones, shared a beautiful life with his devoted wife, Alice Baker, of South Fork, Colo. Their partnership was a testament to love and mutual respect, and together they built a life filled with joy and laughter.

He was a beloved brother to Pamela (David) Gornanson of Lyons, Colo., half-sister Nelore (Randy) Collins of Athol, Idaho, and held a special bond with his brother-in-law, Aaron R. (Caleen) Hall, Jr., of Palisade, Colo., whom he considered a brother. His nieces, nephews, extended family, and a host of friends will fondly remember Richard's selfless nature and his ability to fix anything that came his way.

Richard's career with the Colorado State Patrol as a Patrolman spanned over a decade, where his dedication to service and community protection was evident to all who worked alongside him. Following his tenure with the State Patrol, he channeled his passion for craftsmanship into his own business, Rich's Building and Repair in South Fork, CO. His work not only showcased his handiness but also his desire to improve the lives of those around him.

An avid outdoorsman, Richard found solace and excitement in the beauty of nature. He spent countless hours hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, and backpacking through the Colorado wilderness. His love for the outdoors extended to his involvement with the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the National Rifle Association, he served two tours as a Naval Seabee in Vietnam, where he advocated for the preservation of the natural world he so deeply cherished. Trap shooting and sporting clays were more than hobbies for Richard; they were activities that brought him closer to his community and friends.

Those who knew Richard would describe him as the epitome of kindness and selflessness. His hands were rarely still, always working on a project or lending aid to a neighbor in need. His legacy is one of unwavering generosity and the countless lives he touched with his warm spirit and willingness to help others.

Richard was preceded in death by his parents, stepmother, and his sister Norma.

Cremation was chosen there will not be a service. Contributions in his memory are suggested to the Rio Grande Hospital, 310 County Road 14, Del Norte, CO 81132.

Rogers Family Mortuary is in care of the arrangements. To leave online condolences, remembrances, and words of comfort for Richard's family, please visit www.RogersFunerals.com.

to the Creede community, who until recently, have had to travel for dental care to places as far as 20 to 60 miles away. The clinic was purchased by local resident Leslie Leggett and Dr. Eric Smith of Pagosa Spring, Colo. In spring of 2024, the clinic welcomed Dr. John Quigley who also serves the Lake City area just on the other side of Slumgullion Pass.

Dr. Quigley, who is an avid outdoor enthusiast grew up in the Colorado Springs area has practiced dentistry for the past 34 years was very excited to come to Creede. "I have enjoyed my time in Creede and getting to know my new patients. This is an extraordinary place."

The clinic was approached by a local veteran about participating in the Veterans Smile Day and all the staff were eager to participate. "A local veteran suggested we participate in the Veterans Smile Day, and we thought it was a great idea," said Hygienist Leslie Leggett. "We recognize the obstacles to quality dental care that can exist for our Veterans, especially in rural, isolated communities. We are proud to honor them however we can, and I hope we will be able to make this an annual tradition."

Leggett was born and raised in Wichita Falls, Texas, and has resided in Creede for the past five years. She came to the clinic with 20 years' experience as a hygienist and has enjoyed her time in Creede as part owner of the clinic.

The Veterans Smile Day will take place on Nov. 12 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Creede Dental Works will be honoring Veterans by participating in this wonderful opportunity, offering dental screenings, cleanings, and x-rays for absolutely no cost to those who have served.

To participate, Veterans can call the clinic to make an appointment at 719-658-0322 and accommodations will be made to those who cannot make it that day or are not able to make an appointment through the end of the year. Patients who have existing appointments on that day will be seen as scheduled.

This event was made possible through a partnership with the Creede Community Church.

"We think of our patients as family, and that is how we treat them," said Practice Manager Bethanny Andre. "My father, grandfather and grandmother were all Veterans. I wish they were here, so we could make them smile."

I love a good story

Because I spent a week in Kansas helping to take care of my Dad, I missed out on the first week of archery elk season. Before he passed away, one of the last things he said was, "Go home so you can hunt."

Hunting runs deep in this Kirkpatrick clan.

Now back in Colorado, my alarm goes off at 4 a.m., I have a quick coffee to go, followed by a nice uphill hike to my elk blind.

The first morning back I could really tell I had spent nine days at flatlanders' altitude with little sleep, as I had lost some of my lung capacity. But with practice and repetition, it is better now. This morning, I actually made it all the way with just a few breathers. I probably resemble an old horse wheezing and blowing at the stops. May smell like a horse, too. You'll have to ask Miss Trixie.

While I'm on the mountain slaving away chasing elusive elk and bear for our freezer fodder, this is Miss Trixie's time to do whatever she wants – like she doesn't do that anyway. Just yesterday she felt compelled to send me her schedule which looks like it's been shot with a shotgun. Every day and evening seems to have something planned. I had to remind her that all of those social butterfly events were way down on the totem pole for Ol' Dutch. Somehow being up in the aspens hunting beats out a pig roast any day for me.

There are quite a few hunters up where I go and yesterday I was fortunate enough to meet a couple on the road. Now when I saw "couple" I mean as in a young man and his main squeeze. I got a good giggle at her stretchy legging and crop top for hunting apparel. They were from far away and asked if I knew where there were any deer.

Of course, I showed them a picture of a big one hanging out in the front yard, in town. He is no dummy.

After giving them some pointers on where to find the dumb deer, I suggested that they find a gun to carry as there are a lot of mountain lions in that area. And then I had to tell them about my Disney moment with a cougar.

This happened a few seasons ago. It was a moonlit night after a week of rain. I had been up on the mountain hunting elk when darkness overtook me. It took a while for me to find the road where the truck was parked but because the moon was so bright, I didn't even have my flashlight out. I was just a-singing as I trod down the road nary a care in the world. Well, except keeping an eye out for Bigfoot.

I finally found the truck where I left it of course, and took my own sweet time getting in. As soon as I turned on the lights of the truck, though, there was the biggest mountain lion I have ever seen. Not ten feet in front of my headlights. Tongue hanging out, drool dripping, certain that his next meal or ten was close at hand. Judging by his paw prints on the wet road, Unbeknownst to me, that lion had followed me the whole mile down the road.

Now I know they say music calms the savage beast and I don't know if that helped my cause due to the sweet melodious tunes I was singing or if my caterwauling made him think I would be one sour chunk of meat. But most likely the good Lord spared me an attack that night and I now carry a gun in case the Lord is busy if there is a next time.

This story had the desired effect on the hunters and the girl's eyes got as big as saucers and I could tell the poor man was in for it now. He will have to hold her hand every step or maybe even take her home.

Man, I love a good story.

Hikers in a wilderness turn into firefighters

More frequent wildfires in the West can turn hiking through beautiful, high-elevation country into a dangerous game for hikers. In July, seven friends from Idaho, Colorado, Washington and Montana took off for a week of backpacking in southwestern Montana. Everything went off without a hitch their first night. A rainstorm passed through but it wasn't a big deal.

But when they woke up, they saw a plume of smoke rising into the sky. Darren Wilson had anticipated something like this, even before their trip began.

"It was in the back of my mind — I hope we don't hike into somewhere and get trapped by a fire," recalled Wilson, a Hamilton, Montana, resident.

They were hiking through the Anaconda Pintler Wilderness and knew it was under strict restrictions: No building campfires, no fire allowed anywhere, no exceptions. The summer had been dry and hot, and wildfires had been erupting throughout Montana.

But as the group continued hiking toward Hidden Lake, they realized the trail of smoke ahead might be the early stage of a wildfire.

The hikers weren't trapped, but 200 yards from Hidden Lake they came upon scorched earth surrounding a tree split down the middle, most likely from a lightning strike. Its bark was blackened and glowing, and beneath the tree the charred ground smoldered. The smoke they'd seen was seeping from beneath hot charcoal and dry wood.

"You could tell the tree torched and burned while it was standing and then cracked and fell on the ground," said Darren's wife, Chelsie, an x-ray technologist with previous experience in wildland firefighting.

"I think everyone had different feelings," she said. "Those who had never seen forest fires before were panicking."

The group put Chelsie Wilson in charge, and she laid out a two-step process: Some people would run to Hidden Lake to fill every water bottle and hydration pack. Everyone else would use the water to turn the smoldering dirt into mud.

Chelsie Wilson and Brittney Erickson, one of her fellow hikers, poured water on dirt, using the wet earth to put out the fire bit by bit. Chelsie kicked a burning stump into the ground. The team smothered it. She instructed and delegated jobs, describing the team as willing, communicative and diligent.

"It was really scary at first," Chelsie said, "and then it became fun." After two hours, she gave her team the all-clear. They had transformed the patch of smoldering char into a wet pile of dirt and debris.

On a hike later the same day, the group climbed West Pintler Peak only to spot another fire, this one on the horizon some 10 miles away. They called in the sighting from a ridge with cell service and heard a plane fly low overhead the next day. Weeks later, they said they think that was the first alert to the Johnson Fire, a 270-acre blaze southwest of West Pintler Peak.

If there was a theme to the hikers' trip it was definitely fire, because while camping near the bank of Oreamnos Lake, they spotted wispy smoke billowing from the opposite shoreline.

"We start yelling across the lake, top of our lungs," Darren Wilson said. "Is there anybody there? Do you have a fire?" Hearing no response, they initiated a then-familiar course of

by Zeke Lloyd action. Gathering every container of water they possessed, the group rushed toward the smoke's source.

"Like children of the corn, we come out of the trees," Wilson said, only to find three men huddled around a prohibited campfire. The hikers explained that they'd put out a smoldering wildfire, spotted another and were worried about a third—the campfire they were now looking at.

"The guys were not very impressed with us, though," Chelsie Wilson said, as the men reluctantly extinguished their fire. "They didn't like our story at all." Still, they'd agreed to douse the fire and the hikers withdrew, hoping this was the end of fires popping up on their trek.

"It's a real possibility," Darren Wilson said. "You could be caught behind the wrong side of a fire."

Colorado Snowmobile Grant Program to provide over $1M for winter trail grooming, equipment and maintenance

CONTRIBUTED

COLORADO — The Colorado Parks and Wildlife Snowmobile Grant Program will provide over $1 million dollars to support winter trails in Colorado this year. Over $350,000 was approved by the Parks and Wildlife Commission for Snowmobile Grant Program projects and an additional $735,000 was provided for the Trail Grooming program to maintain winter trail opportunities.

Despite its name, the Snowmobile Grant Program supports trail grooming for winter trails that are open to both motorized and non-motorized use such as cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, and fat biking.

CPW offers two types of winter trail grants each year.

Snowmobile Program grants are distributed through a competitive application process for large projects to maintain and purchase new equipment and maintain and build new winter trails and trail facilities.

This year, snowmobile grants will fund five volunteer snowmobile clubs to purchase grooming equipment and repair existing groomers.

Trail Grooming grant funds are primarily directed toward winter trail grooming, maintenance and signage. The Trail Grooming program currently supports 27 volunteer snowmobile clubs that maintain and provide signage on over 2700 miles of winter trails.

The majority of funding for the Snowmobile Program comes from snowmobile registration and permitting fees with close to 25% of funding coming from the Recreational Trails Program (RTP). The RTP is a federally funded grant program that receives money from a portion of the federal gas taxes paid on non-highway recreational fuel.

“When you register your snowmobile or buy a permit, you are helping to fund the winter trails that you enjoy,” said CPW Assistant Director for Outdoor Recreation and Lands Fletcher Jacobs. “While it does support other winter trail activities, the Snowmobile Program’s primary goal is to improve and enhance snowmobile recreation opportunities across the state while promoting the safe and responsible use of snowmobiles.”

In addition to trail grooming and signage for the snowmobiling public, registration/permit funding also supports registration operations, snowmobile law enforcement, the snowmobile safety certification program and Colorado’s Avalanche Warning Program.

City, county, local and federal government entities and grooming clubs registered under the Colorado Snowmobile Associate (CSA) are eligible to apply for either a program grant or grooming services grant. The 2025-2026 snowmobile grant cycle will begin in March 2025.

Learn more about the Snowmobile Grant Program, 2024-2025 grant recipients and eligibility requirements on CPW’s website.

Shooting Stars Cultural and Leadership Center in Alamosa is one of fifteen recipients of grant funds in the San Luis Valley from the El Pomar Foundation of Colorado Springs.

El Pomar awards $114,000 to 15 organizations in the SLV

STAFF REPORT

COLORADO SPRINGS — Fifteen non-profits and government agencies in the San Luis Valley have been awarded grants from the El Pomar Foundation, totaling $114,000.

Thirteen of the grants were awarded based on recommendations from El Pomar's San Luis Valley Regional Council, which recommends grants in Alamosa, Conejos, Costilla, Mineral, Rio Grande, and Saguache counties. Council members are regional leaders in the business, nonprofit, and public sectors and provide first-hand information about current needs in their own communities.

The remaining two grants were awarded due to a competitive process.

The 13 grant recipients recommended by the SLV Regional Council include Alpine Achievers Initiative in Alamosa, which received $10,000 for Supporting Health Initiatives for Next-Generation Educators program and $1,000 for general operating support.

The Boys and Girls Clubs of the San Luis Valley in Alamosa was awarded $1,000 for general operating support.

The Center for Restorative Programs in Alamosa was awarded $3,000 for mental health resilience initiatives in the Alamosa School District and the Boys and Girls Clubs of the San Luis Valley plus $1,000 for general operating support.

Founded by Spencer and Julie Penrose in 1937, the El Pomar Foundation has an established legacy of general-purpose grant making. The competitive process remains the Foundation's primary vehicle for organizations to receive funding.

To increase impact and establish connections across the entire state, the Regional Partnerships program was established in 2003. Each of the Foundation's 11 regional councils advises El Pomar Trustees and recommends grants to help support its communities.

Senator Bennet Visits SLV Health, tours facilities

By DONNA WEHE

Director of Communication SLV Health

ALAMOSA — SLVH hosted Senator Michael Bennet on a tour of the workforce housing project along with a brief tour of the Regional Medical Center in Alamosa on Sept. 3. SLVH received funding to remodel the "Pike Apartments" on the RMC campus from Congressional Directed Spending appropriation.

"Workforce housing has become part of delivering quality healthcare in our region," commented CEO Konnie Martin. "With this generous funding, we can create safe, comfortable, affordable housing for our workforce who need to travel here."

When SLVH leadership decided to purchase the 11 apartments on Pike Avenue, they also knew they would be freeing up access to other rental properties in the area. "We know there is a housing shortage in the region, and we wanted to be part of the solution," added COO Christine Hettinger-Hunt.

Traveling providers and nurses have used this space along with new hires who are still looking for a property to rent or purchase. "The units are in high demand. This funding will help us with needed infrastructure needs. We plan to modernize the space and update the HVAC systems along with upgrading the furnishings."

During his visit, Senator Bennet listened to Monica Hinds, SLVH Director of Emergency Department and OB/Labor and Delivery. They discussed the challenges facing rural emergency departments, the safety of staff, challenges with drugs and treating victims involved in violent events. "We see about 50 patients in our ED every day. We are never closed and do not refuse treatment to anyone. Patients with Behavioral Health issues, whether from addiction, dementia, or other psychological diagnoses, continue to challenge our resources. Our staff is resilient, and we have awesome community partners."

The team at SLV Health appreciated his visit and his interest in the team and in the community.

How to Be the Bigger Person

God puts us in relationships with all kinds of people. We think differently, and we have different personalities, interests, and ideas. God made us that way on purpose. And although everyone is not like us, He still wants us all to get along.

I love what the apostle Paul says in Philippians 2:2 (AMPC): "Fill up and complete my joy by living in harmony and being of the same mind and one in purpose, having the same love, being in full accord and of one harmonious mind and intention."

To put this verse in perspective, Paul was dealing with people who seemed to be in continual disagreement. If you've raised two or more children, I'm sure you know exactly what he's talking about. Sometimes you'd give anything for a little peace and quiet!

Oddly, the people we usually disagree with the most are the ones we care the most about our spouses, family members, close friends, and coworkers. And if we're asking God to bring healing into any of those relationships or make them better, we need to partner with Him to make it happen.

We need to learn how to control our emotions and stay out of strife. Strife is an old-fashioned word for bickering, arguing, or a heated disagreement, and it carries an angry undercurrent.

Have you ever been around someone who's pretending everything's okay, but you can tell that on the inside they're seething with anger? Have you ever been that person?

Think about it. How long do you stay mad when someone mistreats you? How easy is it for you to get frustrated with someone? When you have a disagreement, do you have the need to always be right?

Strife is extremely dangerous. It can destroy marriages, families, relationships, and even churches. If it isn't stopped, it will continue to go from person to person, causing all kinds of problems and unnecessary pain.

It's not easy to hear, but the Bible says we are still under the control of the flesh as long as we are envious and jealous of others and there is arguing among us (1 Corinthians 3:3).

When the Bible talks about "the flesh," it is referring to the parts of our souls and bodies that we have not yet surrendered to God...things like bad attitudes, selfishness, strife, anger, fear, unforgiveness, lust, addictions, and anything else that leads to sin.

The minute we begin to sense envy or jealousy within us or an urge to be offended, we need to make a decision to put our feelings aside and say, "I am not offended."

If we don't do this—and instead just stuff it down inside of us—little things become giants in our lives. Then before we know it, we're angry, bitter, resentful people...going to church every week but not acting any different than the rest of the world.

God wants us to care more about maintaining peace in our relationships than we care about being right. And He wants us to have a good attitude even when we don't get our way.

Acts 13:22 says God is looking for those who will "carry out My program fully" (AMPC), and part of that is learning to forgive quickly, frequently, and thoroughly.

When you have a conflict, you need to do your part to resolve it no matter what the other person chooses to do. Someone has to choose to be humble and apologize first—and as a Christian, that very often means you.

If you've been through some tough times in your relationships, you probably know that being right is highly overrated. We're not likely to agree with each other by accident because we're all different, so we need to put a real effort into creating an atmosphere of unity.

And where there's unity, there is blessing (Psalm 133). When people are unified and agree, it brings peace and power.

I can promise you there will be opportunities to be offended. You may even be tempted to have an all-out fit. But before that even happens, I encourage you to set your mind to be the "bigger" person. Why? Because when we do, we can have the healthy relationships God wants us to have.

We're not ever going to be perfect like Jesus, but we can get better at loving imperfect people.

ASU undergraduate enrollment growth trend continues

By ADAMS STATE UNIVERSITY

ALAMOSA — Adams State University announced the institution continued to see an upward swing in undergraduate enrollment this fall, building on last year's success. The University undergraduate enrollment is up nearly 5 percent from 2023.

"This was, quite frankly, rather remarkable given the challenges we faced this year," President David Tandberg, Ph.D., said. "But we did it and we should all be proud. This is very much a cause for celebration."

Much of the increase came from part-time and non-degree students. The post-graduate enrollment in teacher education, MBA, and music education increased as well. Overall, graduate enrollment was down slightly, however students did enroll in more classes than last year.

Adams State is projecting an increase in both undergraduate and graduate students for the upcoming spring semester as well. Applications are currently being accepted and registration for the spring semester begins October 30, 2024. Visit adams.edu for information or to apply.

Adams State is the most affordable residential university in Colorado when factoring in the total cost of attendance, which includes tuition and fees and room and board.

Newly appointed Assistant Vice President of Enrollment Management Mark Buck said, "Understanding the entire financial process and how to approach funding one's education can be confusing for students and parents. Simplifying and assisting students in navigating through the financial aid process will continue to be a priority for us here at Adams State."

A celebration of the life of Kathy Park Woolbert

Set for 1 to 3 p.m. on Sept. 21

By PRISCILLA WAGGONER

ALAMOSA — A celebration of life will be held on Sept. 21 for Kathy Park Woolbert, a woman well known and much beloved in the Alamosa community.

Kathy passed away at 5:30 p.m. on April 8, 2024, at home in her own bed with her best friend, partner, collaborator, soulmate and husband, Henry, at her side. It was the day of the solar eclipse, which somehow seems so fitting.

"Kathy Park has gone over to the other side to join the herd," says Henry. "Horses were such a part of her life — this is how Kathy saw her passing."

As he describes the celebration of her life, "We will be gathering to share some of our favorite memories, our stories, to laugh, to cry and remember a wonderful person who will be greatly missed."

To those who knew her, Kathy was truly an extraordinary human being. And "those who knew her," included a far reaching, diverse circle of friends, colleagues and students as Kathy was imbued with an inordinate number of talents, skills, accomplishments and interests.

To those who knew her as an artist, Kathy was gifted with a truly remarkable ability to reveal the most powerful figures, shapes, animals and people hidden deep within a raw block of stone or wood. Her paintings were so astonishingly original that her work was immediately recognized as hers because of the way the world was portrayed.

As a writer, she could make people think, laugh, feel and ponder the mysteries of life within one piece of work.

As a teacher, she both motivated and guided people incarcerated in prisons around the country to explore their own thoughts and experiences and revelations and discover their own voices in storytelling.

As an Aikido instructor, she taught principles both philosophical and physical, applying what she had learned to even the most difficult situations once she was discovered to have cancer.

And to those horses who were such a fundamentally important part of her life, she was, as Henry says, truly "one of the herd."

Even with all of this said, there is still so much to remember and to celebrate and to honor about Kathy Park Woolbert, which Henry warmly invites all who knew her to do.

The celebration of life will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Woolbert Home and Dreamworks Studio, 13201 Charisma Trail, Alamosa. Live music and refreshments will be provided.

Henry is requesting people to RSVP by Sept. 15 by calling 719-589-2897.

U.S. Sen. Bennet meets with SLV leaders on transmission lines

By JOHN WATERS

ALAMOSA — U.S. Senator Michael Bennet met with over 25 San Luis Valley leaders on Sept. 3 to discuss electric transmission lines in and out of the Valley.

Alamosa County Commissioner Lori Laske has spearheaded the transmission line issue for several years. Bennet thanked her for her “extraordinary leadership,” on the issue. In a comment to Laske, Bennet said, “Whatever support you need from us in terms of help, badgering the agencies, and helping your efforts, we will provide it.”

State Senator Cleve Simpson told the Valley Courier, “I’ve been extremely interested in the potential for further commercial solar development in the Valley, but it is bottlenecked with transmission capacity. I’m glad to see Senator Bennet is actively involved in the issue and thank Commissioner Laske for her work.” Simpson added the transmission lines have been discussed for many years and said, “Either come to a conclusion on the viability, or find a path forward, and I continue to be hopeful there is a path forward.”

Central to the issue is studying the possibilities of where proposed transmission lines traverse. As the Valley Courier reported in July, the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) has granted Alamosa County $1,699,965 to study transmission lines in the Valley.

With the funding, Alamosa County will conduct an analysis and extensive community engagement around three potential transmission corridors to identify the optimal route to increase electric transmission capacity to the Upper Rio Grande Valley in Southern Colorado and northern New Mexico.

US Senator Michael Bennet (center) met with Valley civic and community leaders to discuss electric transmission lines.

According to the DOE, “In a continued effort to expedite the build-out of a resilient and reliable electric grid, the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) today announced 20 projects across 16 states selected to receive up to $371 million to accelerate the permitting of high-voltage, interstate transmission projects.

“These projects will also support community infrastructure projects along major new and upgraded transmission lines, including upgrading public school buildings and emergency response facilities. Administered by DOE’s Grid Deployment Office, today’s Transmission Siting and Economic Development (TSED) grants will help advance at least 16 high-impact transmission lines across the country, supporting the deployment of reliable and affordable energy for consumers and creating good-paying jobs.”

“Every pocket of the country is experiencing the grueling impact of extreme weather, and there’s no doubt that we must expand our transmission grid to get more clean, resilient power to more people, in more places,” said U.S. Secretary of Energy Jennifer M. Granholm.

Explore a career in ag

The agricultural industry provides a variety of opportunities to professionals interested in this often misunderstood field.

According to the employment resource AGCareers.com, more than 250 career profiles are available to people interested in a career in agriculture. And while jobs in agriculture may not be as prevalent as they were a few centuries ago, when 72 percent of the workforce was employed in farm occupations in the United States, agriculture remains a booming industry that greatly affects the nation's economy. Today, one in 12 American jobs depends on agriculture, according to the career resource Payscale.

The following are some potential professions for those considering careers in agriculture.

• Agricultural business manager: This person oversees the business operations of a farm by providing organization and leadership during the production process. He or she contacts creditors, selects seeds, buys new equipment, and ensures the distribution of product.

• Agricultural lawyer: Attorneys who specialize in agriculture deal with water and environmental issues, represent agricultural labor in disputes, ensure proper marketing techniques are followed, handle real estate and land use issues, and much more.

• Animal control officer: These officers enforce local and regional laws that pertain to the treatment and care of animals. They patrol for distressed animals and ensure cruelty-free practices are adhered to.

• Grain buyer: Grain buyers build relationships with producers so they can purchase grain for their particular companies. They negotiate purchase agreements, source grain supplies and issue purchase orders.

• Poultry hatchery manager: Hatchery managers oversee all of the aspects involved in poultry hatching. These can include management of personnel, handling and sorting of eggs, maintenance of equipment, coordination of pick-ups and deliveries, and overseeing quality control.

• Soil scientist: Among the many tasks they might perform, scientists in the field of agriculture test soil samples for minerals and contaminants. By studying the soil, scientists can recommend which crops the land can support, how much livestock can feed in an area and the implications of agriculture on the area as it pertains to managing natural resources.

A career in agriculture presents many exciting opportunities in a number of different applications. It's a vast industry that utilizes professionals with an array of skillsets.

Facts and figures on farm safety

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, agriculture is among the most hazardous industries. Fatal and nonfatal injuries pose a significant threat to farmers, including the many young people who work on farms. The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, in an effort to promote productive and safe workplaces, supports programs that conduct research on injuries associated with agriculture as well as pesticide exposure, pulmonary disease, musculoskeletal disorders, hearing loss, and stress. Studying the results of such research, compiled by NIOSH, may compel veteran and novice farmers to further emphasize safety measures and promote practices that can reduce risk for accidents on the farm.

• Estimates indicate that there were roughly 2.1 million full-time workers employed in production agriculture in 2017 and between 1.4 and 2.1 million hired crop workers employed annually on crop farms in the United States.

• An estimated 893,000 young people under 20 years of age resided on farms in 2014. More than half of those young people performed farm work, and an additional 266,000 youth were hired to work on farms in 2014.

• Each day, roughly 100 agricultural workers suffer injuries that cause them to miss time at work.

• In 2014, 12,000 youth were injured on farms, and 4,000 of those youths could trace their injuries to farm work.

• In 2016, 417 farmers and farm workers died from work-related injuries. Tractor overturns and other transportation incidents were the leading cause of death for these farmers and farm workers.

• A rollover protection system, or ROPS, is a structure, similar to roll-cages and rollbars in cars and trucks, intended to protect farm equipment operators from injuries caused by overturns or rollovers.

Hunting seasons start in Colorado

How hunters and outdoor recreationists can prepare

CONTRIBUTED

COLORADO — The 2024 hunting seasons have begun, and hunters are gearing up for exciting adventures. However, hunters aren't the only ones rushing to the outdoors this fall to enjoy everything Colorado has to offer.

Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW) wants to remind hunters, hikers, bikers, leaf peepers, wildlife viewers, and OHV users that most of Colorado's outdoors is multi-use and intended to be shared. Hunters and nonhunters should show respect and courtesy to all users engaged in outdoor recreation.

• Plan your hunt

Read the "What's New" page in the Big Game Hunting Brochure or watch the 'What's New' 2024 Colorado Big Game video to get a complete list of game management unit-specific changes for 2024.

Find locations to hunt using the Colorado Hunting Atlas. This resource allows you to find public land, save topographic maps, view big game migration corridors and concentration areas, and view OHV trails.

Additional licenses are still available. Licenses leftover from the draw are available for deer, elk, pronghorn, and bear, and you can purchase over-the-counter licenses for bear, elk, pronghorn, and whitetail deer. Licenses returned by other hunters (reissue licenses) are available every Wednesday morning. Check the CPW

Colorado is getting ready to change seasons and will be a canvass of sharp golds, orange, and reds as aspen trees show their colors this fall.

Dive into autumn with several fall drives through the San Juans

By LYNDISIE FERRELL

SAN LUIS VALLEY — With temperatures cooling and the feel of autumn in the air, now is the time to plan for outings in the beautiful San Juan Mountains to capture the amazing fall colors that are set to peak by the end of September, beginning of October.

The San Luis Valley is the perfect place to be when Colorado changes into its fall attire in the next several weeks. Whether out hiking, fishing, or taking a leisurely drive, these are some of the best places to see the Aspen trees change from brilliant green to glorious shades of gold, orange, and red.

Platoro Lake is a gorgeous high mountain lake nestled in the San Juan Mountains just a short walk from the main trailhead. Take Park Creek Road (Forest Service Road 380) toward Summitville. Take the turn to Ellwood Pass which will take you into Platoro. On the way down the pass, you will drive through canopies of Aspen and have incredible views in all directions. There is a Lodge in Platoro that serves delicious

New art gallery graces Grande Avenue in Del Norte

By LYNDISIE FERRELL

DEL NORTE — Hidden among the many businesses lining Grande Avenue, a new gallery of fine art has opened its doors and is welcoming people to experience the colorful, eccentric life of Joan "Blake" Higgins-Cellura captured in mixed media with a talented hand.

The gallery, 728 Grande Ave., is a sight to behold with the front room lined with memories and cherished treasures collected throughout Higgins-Cellura's life. Everything she held dear lines the shelves from Shirley Temple porcelain dolls to a wide collection of Robert Raikes Bears, the shop is a welcoming array into the life of a prolific artist.

"My mom was a presence. She turned heads when she walked into a room and loved every minute of it. It was who she was that drew people to her," said daughter Kim Anna Cellura-Shields. "She has been an artist her entire life. Everything here was a part of her life."

With the help of several family members and friends, Higgins-Cellura's life was packed up from her home in Tucson, Ariz., and brought to its new home in Del Norte.

"We couldn't have gotten this done without all of our family and friends. My mom was so worried about what was going to happen with her belongings, so we were able to surprise her by opening this gallery. It has been cathartic for all of us to go through this process," said Cellura-Shields.

At the beautiful age of 85, Higgins-Cellura was diagnosed with the early stages of dementia and though she is dealing with some memory loss, she was beyond elated and excited to find a home away from home once she knew the gallery housed her most precious possessions.

According to Higgins-Cellura's bio, she was born in Long Island, N.Y., and has been painting since she was able to hold a brush in her hand. Higgins-Cellura

500 organizations call on Congress to pass 2024 Farm Bill

CCALT throws support behind the call

STAFF REPORT

LAKESWOOD — Along with 500 organizations representing a diverse range of stakeholders in conservation, agriculture, nutrition and other related sectors, the Colorado Cattlemen's Agricultural Land Trust (CCALT) is strongly urging Congress to pass the 2024 Farm Bill before the end of the year.

In late July, 500 organizations signed a letter sent to both the Senate and House of Representatives not only calling for action on the Farm Bill but also outlining the risks to farmers and ranchers across America in failing to do so. CCALT, a member of the Partnership of Rangeland Trusts (PORT) was a signatory to the letter.

"Congress must act decisively to pass a new Farm Bill in 2024, ensuring that essential conservation programs continue to be a tool available to farm and ranch families across our nation," said CCALT Executive Director Erik Glenn.

"These programs are vital for ensuring we continue to have land available for the production of the food, fiber, and fuel that is needed to support our growing population.

"Farm Bill conservation programs empower landowners to maintain productive use of their land while contributing to the conservation of our natural resources for future generations," added Glenn.

"Moreover, these programs provide significant economic benefits to rural communities, generating substantial economic activity and creating jobs in areas where opportunities are often limited. By investing in these programs, we are not only strengthening the backbone of rural America but also ensuring the continued resilience and productivity of our nation's agricultural sector." According to a recent report by the Colorado Department of Agriculture, the agriculture industry contributes $47 billion annually to the state's economy and employs more than 195,000 people across 36,000 farm operations.

The letter was sent to House Speaker Mike Johnson, House Minority Leader Hakeem Jeffries, House Agriculture Chair GT Thompson, House Agriculture Ranking Member David Scott, Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer, Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell, Senate Agriculture Chair Debbie Stabenow and Senate Agriculture Ranking Member John Boozman.

CCALT also encourages its landowner-partners to express their support for Farm Bill action by contacting their Colorado federal representatives.

The Colorado Cattlemen's Agricultural Land Trust (CCALT) is a nonprofit land conservation organization whose mission is to "... conserve Colorado's western heritage and working landscapes for the benefit of future generations." CCALT has partnered with more than 400 farm and ranch families in protection of more than 806,000 acres statewide to date.

31st Annual Fall Festival and Quilt Show is Sept. 21

CONTRIBUTED

SAGUACHE — As the leaves begin to change color and the mornings greet us with cooler temperatures, we are reminded of the annual event which occurs on the third Saturday in September. That would be the Fall Festival and Quilt Show held in Saguache on Sept. 21.

Originally entitled Handmade in Saguache Festival, it was meant to celebrate the harvest and the labors of those who had created homemade items during the year. Over the years, instead of visitors traveling to find the treasures, it was brought to the park in Saguache for ease of shopping. Although fresh vegetables and some homemade items have found other locations, you can find vendors with arts and crafts and creations available to enhance your home.

The Saguache Chamber of Commerce will host this event on Saturday, Sept. 21, in Otto Mears Park from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. You will find the Saguache Sagebrush Quilters inside the Community Building.

Be sure to purchase your ticket for the door prize of a handmade quilt which will be presented at the end of the day. Tickets can be purchased on the day of the event. The cost is $1 for 1 ticket or 6 tickets for $5.

Inside the Community Building you will also find a couple of other vendors along with the Silent Auction. The Silent Auction is the one fundraiser held by the Chamber annually. Items will be donated by local supporters and vendors at the event. You can "Buy it Now" or place a bid and take your chances at the end of the event. Winners will be announced at 3:30 p.m.

Our Vendor Coordinator, Bonnie Salzman, has been busy sending out invitations to potential vendors. It is not too late to sign up for a 10-by-10 space. The vendor form is available on the Chamber website www.saguachechamber.org. Select the Fall Festival on the Home Page and you will locate the form, be sure to complete pages 1 and 2. If you need additional assistance, call Salzman at 715-699-3679.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

burgers, among other things. The trip is around 40 miles one way and should take around two hours.

Travelers can also head toward the historic town of Lake City to experience the Silver Thread Historic Scenic Byway. Take the Silver Thread Highway (149) from South Fork to Lake City for spectacular views of mountains and a patchwork of color. Be sure to stop at North Clear Creek Falls. Look for bear prints in the mud of North Clear Creek.

Pool Table and Wheeler Geologic Area is a beautiful drive in the La Garita Mountains just before Creede. Take the Silver Thread Highway (149) toward Creede. Just past Cottonwood Cove, there will be a sign that says, "Pool Table". It is Forest Service Road 600 and is 14 miles. Travelers may drive a two-wheel drive vehicle to Hanson's Mill then take the hiking trail up 6.5 miles to the geologic area. After the mill you will need a four-wheel drive vehicle. Drive on top of the mesa to be surrounded by golden Aspen.

Beaver Creek Road is a short distance from South Fork and a great place to view fall colors.

Take Highway 160 west 3 miles to Beaver Creek Reservoir Road. This is Forest Service Road 360. The first 5-7 miles are through aspen forest. You will pass through the pines then the spruce and fir for great views of the surrounding mountains.

Willow Creek and Del Norte Peak are 17 miles south of South Fork near the town of Del Norte. Head two miles east of town on Highway 160 to Gerrard Road. This is Forest Service Road 350 also known as Willow Creek Road. You can follow it south up to the junction of road 345 where you will turn back to the northeast then meander back to the northwest around Del Norte Peak for beautiful views of the mountain.

Carnero Creek Road is a great place to see the changing of the seasons while enjoying a slice of history just north of Del Norte and Monte Vista. This area is known for its off-grid fishing along Carnero Creek so grab those fishing poles and head out to enjoy a day of fall fishing and changing colors. From U.S. Highway 285, take the La Garita turnoff (County Road G) and follow the paved road 6.0 miles west where the road forks. Take the right fork, the gravel surface Carnero Creek Road (Forest Road 690/County Road 41G) 10.0 miles northwest to Forest Road 675.

No matter which way travelers head, always prepare for adverse weather, plan for a day in the mountains and share travel plans with family and friends. Come on out and enjoy the beautiful backcountry and all it has to offer!

infamous Lisa Frank.

Walking through the gallery is like stepping through time as patrons wander through the different phases of Higgins-Cellura's life. From becoming a doting parent, to her love of fashion, Higgins-Cellura dabbled in every form of media art has to offer. Some of her most intricate work was done with marker, watercolor, paint, and pencil.

One thing that is most notable in her artwork is how Higgins-Cellura captures portraits, specifically the eyes. Human emotion is one of the hardest things to recreate, but Higgins-Cellura could create an emotion just by painting a person's eyes.

"My mother said she always started with the eyes when she would do portraits. They were the windows to the soul," Cellura-Shields said.

"Her imagination never stopped. She had a wealth of ideas, and she loved the bazaar, strange and beautiful. She was a fan of horror movies and everything that caught someone's attention," said her daughter Donna Hoefler.

The gallery will be open by appointment for the time being until a regular artist's schedule can be set. Appointments can be made by calling 719-588-1892.

Outdoor Fitness Court Studio coming to DN's Centennial Park

CONTRIBUTED

DEL NORTE — Rio Grande County Public Health in partnership with UHealth, and National Fitness Campaign (NFC) recently announced the grand opening of a new outdoor Fitness Court Studio in Del Norte.

The Fitness Court will be at Centennial Park, 140 Spruce St., Del Norte, and will open on Sept. 18, from noon to 2 p.m. with a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

This Fitness Court Studio is the result of a partnership between Rio Grande County Public Health with the Town of Del Norte and Rio Grande Hospital as partners, UHealth and NFC to expand free access to high-quality workouts, creating equitable access to exercise for communities around the state.

The Fitness Court Studio delivers the powerful seven minutes full body workout on one side and a versatile outdoor class area for enjoying yoga, Zumba, pilates and other popular group wellness activities on the opposite side.

“Investing in an outdoor Fitness Court Studio is more than just adding new equipment to our community; it’s about creating accessible opportunities for everyone in Rio Grande County to prioritize their health and well-being. By encouraging physical activity in a natural setting, we are fostering a healthier, more connected community that can thrive together. We are incredibly proud and excited to bring this outdoor fitness center to the Rio Grande County community. This initiative represents our commitment to enhancing the health and well-being of our residents. We highly appreciate the great partnership of the Town of Del Norte and Rio Grande Hospital, and other agencies that provided enormous support and collaboration to make this dream a reality for our community,” said Dr. Kolawole Bankole, Director, Rio Grande County Public Health Agency.

Created with people aged 14 years and older and with all abilities in mind, the workouts are adaptable for all fitness levels, allowing participants to move at their own pace. Users also may download the free Fitness Court app which acts as a coach-in-your-pocket and enhances the outdoor gym into a digitally supported wellness experience.

“Everyone can benefit from living an active lifestyle, both physically and mentally,” said Manny Rodriguez, UHealth’s chief marketing, experience and innovation officer. “It is well documented that regular exercise can prevent illness, improve our mental health and help manage chronic health conditions. We are excited to partner with the National Fitness Campaign as part of UHealth’s ‘Ready. Set. CO’ challenge to improve the health of all Coloradans and restore our place as one of the healthiest states in the nation.”

The public is invited to attend the launch event on Wednesday, Sept. 18, from noon to 2 p.m. to try the Fitness CourtStudio. For more information, contact the Rio Grande County Public Health Agency at 719-657-3352 or email kbankole@riograndecounty.org. For more information on UHealth’s support of NFC, please visit nationalfitnesscampaign.com/colorado.

“National Fitness Campaign is proud to welcome the Rio Grande County Public Health Agency to the campaign as a leader in Colorado, championing health and wellness for their residents,” said Mitch Menaged, founder of National Fitness Campaign. “The addition of the Fitness Court Studio, along with digital wellness programming, demonstrates a tremendous commitment to the health and wellbeing within the community.”

The new Alamosa Food Bank on State Avenue will open on Sept. 30 and needs volunteers to help move into the new facility. If interested, contact David Schneider at 719-587-3499, ext. 301, or email director.volcoor@lapuente.net.

Alamosa Food Bank needs volunteers

CONTRIBUTED

ALAMOSA — The Alamosa Food Bank will be opening at a new location on Monday, Sept. 30. Currently, this food bank is at 513 6th St., Alamosa, and will be moving to the old Atencio’s Market, 802 State Ave., Alamosa.

Together the food bank up and running there will be two moving days, Tuesday, Sept. 24, and Wednesday, Sept. 25. Moving times each day will be from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Volunteers will be asked to lift cases of canned, bagged, and boxed products, and will be helping transfer shelving and other food bank items from the old food bank to the new food bank. If volunteers have a vehicle that can haul stuff, feel free to bring it. As long as there are slots open, 15 per shift, we will be glad to have you come and help us!

The new food bank will provide better storage, better services, and easier access to the individuals who utilize this building. For those who can, the Food Bank Network of the SLV and the Alamosa Food Bank will always accept donations of products and cash. Consider bringing your food gifts after the new food bank opens; they will be a little bit busy from Sept. 23 to 27.

To help with the move and sign up for a shift, contact David Schneider at 719-587-3499, ext. 301, or email director.volcoor@lapuente.net.

website every Tuesday for a preview list of reissue licenses before they go on sale at cpwshop.com.

If you have questions about setting up your accounts, planning your hunts, or purchasing licenses, customer service representatives and hunt planners are available Monday - Friday from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. MT at 303-297-1192. Hunting resources are available at cpw.state.co.us/hunting.

CPW also encourages hunters and outdoor recreationists to download the free Colorado Trail Explorer (COTREX) mobile app to check active fire alerts before heading out on trails.

- Hunters' role in wildlife conservation

Colorado manages its wildlife using the North American Model of Wildlife Conservation, the cornerstone of modern wildlife conservation across the United States. This revolutionary model uses hunting and fishing fees to fund conservation efforts and protects wildlife from exploitation, habitat destruction, or extinction.

For almost two centuries, this model has been a large part of the reason why Colorado's wildlife is so healthy and abundant. This model is still the most successful wildlife management model in the world.

Hunters also play an essential role in CPW's chronic wasting disease (CWD) management. Their participation in mandatory CWD testing initiatives is vital to wildlife managers' ability to assess the disease's prevalence and make data-driven management decisions.

"One of the only CWD management tools we currently have at our disposal is the hunting community itself," said CPW Big Game Manager Andy Holland. "Hunters play a vital role in controlling CWD by harvesting select deer and other cervids more likely to carry the disease and submitting samples for analysis. This helps CPW understand the disease's prevalence and distribution in the state and evaluate if management strategies are working."

- Gray wolves and coyotes: how to spot the differences

Coyotes and gray wolves can look similar from a distance. CPW created a Coyote or Gray Wolf - How to Spot the Differences Handout to help you spot the differences.

The federal Endangered Species Act and state law protect gray wolves in Colorado. Penalties for illegally killing a gray wolf can vary and can include fines up to $100,000, jail time, and loss of hunting privileges. Find more wolf educational resources at cpw.state.co.us/living-wolves.

How can nonhunters prepare for hunting season?

The majority of public lands in Colorado are open to multiple types of recreational use. There is no need to limit your outdoor activities in the fall; however, nonhunters should recognize that hunters are on the landscape and take additional precautions.

A general knowledge of hunting season dates and safety tips can help keep you safe.

Big game season dates

- Rifle bear season - Sept. 2-30
- Archery season - Sept. 2-30
- Muzzleloader season - Sept. 14-22
- Rifle seasons
- 1st season - Oct. 12-16
- 2nd season - Oct. 26 to Nov. 3
- 3rd season - Nov. 9-15
- 4th season - Nov. 20-24

For safety reasons, big game hunters using a firearm must wear fluorescent orange or pink when in the field (camouflage orange or pink is not allowed). While not required, it is recommended that other recreation users wear bright colors as well, especially during the muzzleloader and rifle seasons.

It is illegal to intentionally interfere with hunters, including causing animals to flee, denying access to public areas, or injecting yourself into the line of fire.

Chapman Park in Monte Vista was filled with people for the annual San Luis Valley Potato Festival on Saturday, Sept. 7. The festival is organized by the Colorado Potato Administrative Committee.

Area celebrates harvest at SLV Potato Festival

By MARIE MCCOLM

MONTE VISTA — On Saturday morning, Chapman Park was already filling up with people, for the annual San Luis Valley Potato Festival, that marks the harvest of the Valley's signature crop — potatoes.

By 7:30 a.m., just before the Tater Trot 5K was about to start on Sept. 7, hundreds of people, including farmers, vendors, and businesses with booths were gearing up for the celebration.

The event was as exciting as it has been in past years with the fun-filled Tater Trot race and the first of two of the ever-popular agricultural tours bound for the CSU Research Center, and then on to two Valley farms. The ag tours allow people to gain insight and receive information about what goes into the planting, growing, and harvesting of the Valley's potato crop.

Many festivities were held at the Potato Festival this year, including corn hole, and many vendors were set up selling their wares — paintings, jewelry, tumblers and T-shirts, baked goods and more. There were also multiple food and drink trucks at the park and many businesses had booths and were giving out information.

Larry Brown of the CSU Extension Office in Monte Vista handed out information about the office.

The San Luis Valley Antique Car Club brought their colorful kids train ride to the festival. The children were laughing and smiling on the popular train ride. There were large bouncy houses at the park for kids, including a giant green bounce house. There was a giant monster truck bouncy house, and children could be seen going up and down the truck, bouncing and laughing as they slid down the main part of the truck. There was a zipline at the festival this year that both children and adults slid down.

The Colorado Potato Administrative Committee (CPAC) organizes the event. There was a free baked potato lunch with the Monte Vista High School boys varsity basketball team collecting donations for the lunch. The team members served the loaded potatoes.

The San Luis Valley Community Band played many lively tunes for the crowd. The Professional Chef Cooking Competition was held. The Swoop of the Cranes live auction also took place.

The Potato Festival brought hundreds of people to Chapman

Park this year, and was a huge success, according to Jessica Bradshaw of the Colorado Potato Administrative Committee.

"It was great. We had a lot of people here. We had a great turn out. It was a great festival. We want to thank our sponsors; without them we couldn't do this, and we want to thank the community for coming out," she said.

Creede resident Katey Kuhnel said that her family came for the day and enjoyed the Potato Festival.

"This is our first year living here. It's so cool that all the things are free for the kids. We are really enjoying this, and we will definitely come next year," Kuhnel said.

- Easy-Brake Wheels

Plus, now you can choose between dark luster silver or champagne

The UPWalker is a revolutionary new mobility device that can change your life by changing the way you walk. It enables you to stand upright when you walk— with your spine straight and your eyes looking straight ahead. Your weight is supported by your upper arms and shoulders, some of the strongest parts of your body. Traditional walkers and rollators force you to put the pressure of your body weight on your hands and wrists. You push them in front of you, looking at the ground instead of where you going. The UPWalker moves with you, with your body perfectly aligned and your feet free to walk in a normal fashion. Its easy-adjust height system allows it to be the perfect fit/height for anyone from 4'10" to 6'1" and supports up to 300 pounds. The new stand-assist handles enable you to distribute your weight across your arms and shoulders, not your hands and wrists to help reduce back, neck, wrist pain and discomfort. It features comfortable arm pads, hand brakes, a fold-down seat, a backrest and two storage bags. It's built with aircraft-grade aluminum to be sturdy yet lightweight, and its sleek design and oversized wheels make it perfect for tight spots in the house or walking in the yard.

Why spend another day bent over and shuffling around— or worse yet, plopped in front of the TV all day. Pick up the phone and take back your life. Call now.

Homelake Veteran Gottlieb celebrates 99th birthday

By MARIE MCCOLM

MONTEVISTA — Richard Gottlieb was all smiles, wearing a golden crown, as he posed for a picture on Sept. 7 next to his chocolate dipped birthday cake, adorned with candles that held the numbers 99.

Gottlieb celebrated his birthday amongst family and friends at the Colorado Veterans Community Living Center at Homelake, where he lives, under a pavilion behind the center. At least 30 people attended the celebration for Gottlieb, including other residents of the center. Live piano music was part of the celebration. According to the center, he is the oldest living Veteran at Homelake.

Gottlieb was happy at his party and stated, "I have had a good life. This is the best facility I have ever lived at."

When asked how it feels to be 99, Gottlieb stated with a chuckle, "I am 99, and I feel 99. I never thought I would be this old, but I feel 99."

Gottlieb, who is originally from New York, spoke about his life, and how he came to live in Colorado.

"I am originally from New York, and I went to a very fine school in New York for boys. At that time, it was for boys, but now it's co-ed. It was a six-year school, and when I graduated, I enlisted like I was supposed to. I was in the Air Corps. At the time the Air Force hadn't been established yet, it was the Air Corps. I went through basic training and all that stuff, and I became a Gunnery Instructor. When it was decided that I was ready for active duty well I requested overseas duty, and I was sent over to Italy," he said.

Gottlieb said that he was stationed in Italy and stayed close to the base there. "Enjoyed my time in Italy. I flew out of Italy, for my missions. When the war ended in 1946, I didn't have enough points to come home, so I stayed for a while until I had all my points and was able to leave," he said.

When asked what his favorite part of being a part of the Air Corps was, Gottlieb said, "I don't know that I had a favorite part, it was more about the service that I could provide for my country. It was something that I wanted to do. We were living more patriotic in those days, not so much today anymore, a lot of patriotism has gone out the window, but in those days, we did live a lot more patriotic."

Gottlieb served a total of 3 years in the Air Corps, and then returned to New York where he lived with his parents for a year, and then got an apartment, and followed in the footsteps of his father and became an insurance salesman.

"My dad had an insurance business, and I went into his business, and ran it after he passed away, so I was an Insurance Broker," he said.

Gottlieb said that part of his decision to move to Colorado was because he was divorced at the time, and he had visited Colorado once or twice, and he enjoyed it.

"I enjoyed the weather here. I made a great choice in coming down to the Valley. Not too many people knew about the Valley then, but it was a great decision for me. I have met so many nice people down here. I am very happy that I made this choice," he said.

Gottlieb thanked everyone who attended his party, especially Mary Hoffman.

"She is the one who has given me this party. She is the one who brought me over here," he said. "She has taken me to New Orleans, to a museum over there. She also took me to New York, and that was the last time I saw my kids, too. She has a sister, who has some apartments down there, and we stayed there. I want to thank her, and everyone here."

Gottlieb smiled and said that when he thinks about his life and his 99 years it has been good.

"I have had a good life. No complaints," he said, as he took his place by his cake to pose for his picture.

Public forum on violence in Alamosa

ALAMOSA — This community has witnessed an increase in violent criminal episodes over the summer months in the City and County of Alamosa. While these incidents do not signal any discernable trend, the District Attorney's Office, the Alamosa Police Department and the Alamosa County Sheriff's Office are responsible for ensuring that the community is well informed about how our agencies are responding to community

Concerns. Transparency is a top priority for the District Attorney's Office.

"For that reason, we invite you to meet with us to talk about your concerns and hear directly from us about what we are doing in response," organizers stated.

Sheriff Robert Jackson, APD Chief George Dingfelder, District Attorney

Anne Kelly and Assistant District Attorney Wesley Stafford will be presenting information and responding to community questions at a public forum to be held on Thursday, Sept. 19, from 6 to 8 p.m. in Society Hall, 400 Ross Ave., Alamosa. Doors will open at 5:15 p.m.

Submit questions and or concerns that you would like addressed to district.attorney@da12.state.co.us.
