Lady Cardinals look to continue from state winning season

By Tara Alumbaugh
Times' sports

The Tipton Lady Cardinals are still living the state championship dream from last season, looking to build off that momentum.

The Ladies may have lost two all-state starters and four other key members down the bench from graduation, but the Lady Cardinals seemed to have picked right back up with wins at the Jefferson City Jamboree and Rolla Shootout against Macks Creek last week.

Returning to the team is senior Courtney Edwards, a 5'11" forward. She averaged 8.5 points per game, with all-conference and all-district honors for two years. Culpepper considers Edwards to be the leader of the team and says she gets after it on both ends of the court.

Senior Madalyn Hagerman, a 5'5" guard, has played all four years, sticking behind a really deep, talented team. Hagerman stepped up this summer, shinning in her role on the court rebounds, defending and knocking down open corner threes.

Junior Charlee Bailey, a 5'7" point guard, averaged 13.5 points and 5 rebounds per game, and has been named all-conference and all-district the last two years and all-state last season. Culpepper says Bailey is a great defender, ball handler and passer, shooting over 42 percent each season.

Sophomore Clara Williams, a 5'7" point guard, will be a part-time starter. She shot 41 percent from the three as a freshman, went to state in three running events for track and is quick at guarding the full length of the court. Williams is known to make quick baskets, scoring five points in the first quarter of the state title game last season that sparked the Lady Cardinals run early on.

Sophomore Ava Schlotzhauer, a 5'10" forward, has already impressed media and fans, leading point in the game against Macks Creek last week. Schlotzhauer saw good varsity playing time, having what Culpepper says was a "huge breakout summer," scoring over 20 points and grabbing over 20 rebounds in half of the 33 summer games. Culpepper feels she will have a huge season.

Contributing off the bench is sophomore Anna Crane, a 5'6" guard, was a junior varsity player last season. She can shoot 3s and has had a lot of success through her junior high and freshman year. Culpepper believes she will provide another scoring option off the bench for the lady Cardinals, providing even more depth.

The team will welcome freshman Larrah Petree, a 5'8" guard. She worked hard this summer to get comfortable with the team. Petree is working on becoming one of the Ladies high 3-point percentage shooters.

Freshman Kaylie Kohler, a 5'10" center, brings height to the team. She had a great junior high career and has put in the work this summer at post for the Lady Cardinals. Culpepper said Kohler continues to get stronger and develop confidence on the varsity level. "She will make us more versatile in the game."

Freshman Camdyn Garber, a 6' center also adds height, working hard this summer to get the job done at the post.

Freshmen Addison McQuaide, Nina Allison and Myra Haas also join the team, using their skills where needed on the JV and varsity side of the game.

Offensively the Ladies like to use space and pace, "get after it on defense and create opportunities on offense," said Culpepper.

With so many shooters on the team, Tipton is anxious to see zones, but can also create opportunities where needed for those easy baskets.

Defensively the Lady Cardinals play man-to-man extended and really pressure the ball.

Culpepper coaches with a philosophy of "teach the athletes how to play ball, then coach to their strengths."

As long as the team stays healthy, Culpepper predicts another successful season.

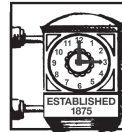

The Ladies started the Tipton Tournament on Monday, Nov. 27, with the championship game being played Friday, Dec. 1.

They will start regular season with a home game against Leeton Thursday, Dec. 7.

Reeves brings state experience to Cards basketball

By Tara Alumbaugh
Times' sports

Coach Michael Reeves comes to the Tipton High School boys basketball team with a coaching record of 100-57 and a couple state appearances while at Golden City High School.

The Cardinals come off a 22-6 record last season with a second place finish in the Kaysinger Conference Tournament and a third place finish in the Tipton Tournament.

"As a coach my goal every season has been to win districts and make it into the playoffs," said Reeves. "This group has a chance to make a run in the post season."

Reeves wants his team to have fun and be ball players, not robots.

Returning to the team this season are seniors Jackson Bailey, standing at 6' will take his place as a guard. Racking up 11.6 points per game and 35 percent from the 3-point line;

Zach Moon, a 6'2" forward, made his name halfway through last season under the basket with rebound and baskets. Moon was 77 percent from the field, averaging 5.4 rebounds per game.

Emmett Haas, a 6'3" center, played mostly junior varsity last year, but will see more of his strength on the varsity side this season.

Cooper Pettigrew is a newcomer to the varsity side of the team, standing at 6'5", the forward averaged 8.1 points per game for JV. Pettigrew is the tallest player, who Reeves says is one of the most skilled kids moving up to the varsity team, being able to step outside and knock down shots as well as go inside the paint.

Tyler Baer returns to the team this season as a manager, after undergoing knee surgery during football season.

Junior Lucas Cashman, a 6' guard, comes from the JV team with an average of 11.1 points per game, 63 percent from the floor, 49 percent from the three.

Sophomores Dane Schlotzhauer, 5'11" guard who played as a well rounded athlete on JV last season. Reeves says he has a skill set that will help out the varsity this season.

Will Cashman, 5'9" guard, is one of the fastest players on the team and can be very disruptive on the defensive end.

Also returning to the team this season are sophomores Gabe Bowlin, Ben Bestgen, Riley Walters and Brady Dicus.

The team welcomes juniors Ryker Wolf and Gabe Bowlin, sophomore Sam Gerlach, and freshmen Andrew Bestgen, Eli Higgins, Ty Bixler, Hunter Hagerman and Kingston Gensler.

Offensively, the Cardinals will need to learn how to move without the ball and to look for better shots.

"Our strength this year for offense is that we can be very versatile," said Reeves. "I believe we can put lineups in where we can be one of the tallest teams for our class in the area."

Defensively, the Cardinals will be mainly a man-to-man team, looking to get up and pressure other teams to try and force them to make mistakes.

"Once again, our strength for defense is versatile," said Reeves. "I believe we can put a lineup on the floor and our bigs have a quick enough feet to stay in front of the other teams guards and not let them blow by for an easy score."

Reeves has faith that the boys have a chance to be the best defensive group that he has ever coached. He has seen them hustle and be competitive in the summer games and in practice..

The Cards look to improve each

Cardinal wrestlers hold talent and experience

By Tara Alumbaugh
Times' sports

The Tipton Cardinal boys wrestling team looks to fill a good portion of their roster this season, bringing back state competitor Dalton Doss, while the Lady Cardinals are small, but mighty with three wrestlers.

Coach Zac Overbeck steps up as the head coach this season with Carrie Meyer stepping in as assistant coach.

Last season the Cardinals were Kaysinger Conference Champions, while the girls took the Greater Missouri Wrestling Competition championship.

For the boys, the team welcomes back seniors Ethan Gerth, John Bleibdrey and Austin West, juniors Landon Griffin and Dalton Doss, and sophomores Enrique Rivera, William Wiecken, Lee Fulks and Grant Pardoe.

For the Ladies, returning seniors are state qualifier, Holly Parker, who will be managing due to shoulder surgery, and Sesley Potter.

The team welcomes sophomore Tucker Doyle, and freshmen

Kaiden Stufflebean, Gavin Hunsburger, Reid Broyles, Evan Ragsdale, Paxton Pyle, Hernan Ubaldo, Briar Hibdon and on the Ladies side, freshman Alayna Daniel and Leila Hunsburger.

Grace Higgins and Logan Koechner will join the manager crew for the team.

The wrestlers look to take another conference win this season, along with qualifying as many for state as they can.

"I look for each wrestler to improve every practice and meet," said Overbeck. "We will focus on lifting, adding to our skills and focusing on specific moves to improve our time on the mat."

The Cardinals have a lot of talent and experience on the team, going back to youth wrestling.

Overbeck is looking forward to the season. He says the number of athletes will bring a lot of competition to each practice, making everyone work harder.

The Lady Cardinals started their season with the Versailles Tournament Tuesday, Nov. 21, and the boys joined them for the California Tri-Meet on Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Lady wrestlers

Members of the 2023-24 Lady Cardinal wrestling team are, from left, Leila Hunsburger, Alayna Daniel, Sesley Potter, Holly Parker and Grace Higgins.

The boys first tournament will Dec. 2. Both boys and girls will Dec. 4, against Lexington. take place at Lone Jack Saturday, have their home opener Monday,

Next move

Alayna Daniel, left, listens to teammate Holly Parker, as she tell her the next move to make on Leila Hunsburger during wrestling practice. The Lady Cardinal wrestlers competed in their first tournament on Tuesday, Nov. 21.

The Tipton Lady Cardinal cheer squad come off the field and head to the court, switching gears to basketball cheer.

The squad is led by Coach Gina Hunsburger who is working with the girls on their motions, jumps and adding new cheers to the lineup.

Meagan Koechner, senior, Illisa McDonald, junior and Mi-ley McDonald, sophomore, will share the duties of captain this season.

Coming back from last year's squad are senior Holly Parker, juniors Lily Hampton and Ella Williams, and sophomores Bailey Bradshaw and Madilynn Edwards.

Leila Hunsburger, Kaitlynn Brewer and Nina Allison come in as freshmen.

The cheerleaders will be present at varsity games, as well as compete in the Game Day competition in Springfield.

"I am excited to see the girls continue to progress in their skills this season," said Hunsburger.

The Ladies will start their season, cheering on the boys and girls in the 85th annual Tipton Tournament Monday, Nov. 27, through Saturday, Dec. 2.

Otterville Lady Eagles back on home court

By Tara Alumbaugh
Times' sports

The Otterville Lady Eagles co-oped with the Sacred Heart Lady Gremlins last season, but have made their way back to their home court playing in purple and gold once again despite a small roster.

Coach Ryan Benny will take the place as head girls coach for his first year, going between junior high boys assistant as well.

Senior Jenna Halter returns from last year's co-oped season. She is left behind by graduates Katie McKinney and Josie Neal. Halter will take her place as a guard on the court this season. Coach Benny looks for her to earn a few post-honors come March.

Eowynn Loveland, senior, comes back after being out last season due to injuries. She will play a big role on offense and defense.

Cheridon Hopkins junior, joins the team on the defensive end and well as handling the ball.

Three freshmen will also join the team, Dakota Millsap, Clara Harrison and Chloe Harrison. These three will rotate on the court, seeing ample playing time.

Benny's main goal is to make it through the season with a healthy team.

"We want to be competitive and hopefully play our best basketball by the time districts comes around," said Benny. "The team has shown up and worked hard to start off and I'm hoping those good habits keep building for the Ladies."

The Lady Eagles' season will begin Tuesday, Dec. 12 at Green Ridge, followed by hosting their annual Otterville Holiday Classic Saturday, Dec. 16, through Friday, Dec. 22.

Eagles have full roster, ready to take on season

By Tara Alumbaugh
Times' reporter

The Otterville Eagles boys basketball team brings back a roster of skill and talent this season.

Coach Tom Ward is on his sixth year as head coach, joined by Ryan Benny as assistant. Last year's record for the Eagles ended at 12-15.

Making their way back onto the court this season are seniors Steven Woolery, 5'10" guard, Austin Krause, 6'1" forward, Coy Wilfong, 5'10" guard and Corbin Jaco Woodall, a 6'3" forward; and junior Bradyen Eads, 6'1" forward.

Joining the team off the bench are senior Hayden Morrison, 6'1" forward, juniors David Loveland, 5'11" guard, Finn Ganguin, 6'3" forward, and Zander Shapley, 5'10" forward, and sophomores Gabe Berry, 5'10" guard, and Cade Birk, 6'1" forward.

The veterans shoot an average of 14.1 points per game to 5.7 points per game. Coming off the bench, the Eagles have a lot of energy, with great summer experience and can play a variety of positions.

The boys depth and ability to play different types of positions on the court will help with the ability to switch things up a little more often.

The Eagles have started their season and will continue with the 85th annual Tipton Tournament, taking the seventh seed.

Following the tournament, they will play at Green Ridge Tuesday, Dec. 12, and will host Ballard, Thursday, Dec. 14.

Lady Dragons

BPH Lady basketball will see depth this season "Can stay fresh on the court"

By Tara Alumbaugh
Times' sports

The Bunceton/Prairie Home Lady Dragons have a big depth in talent this season, despite having all sophomores and freshmen.

Coach Russ Mudd is on his second year of coaching with 14 years experience. He is joined by Paul Fletcher and Jon Mudd as assistant coaches.

The Lady Dragons ended with a 15-13 record last season.

"Our strength will be our depth," said Russ. "We will be able to keep fresh athletes on the floor to maintain our defensive pressure which in turn will lead to easy buckets on the offensive end."

The ladies are working to turn the weakness of a young team into a strength.

Filling the team's roster are sophomores Abby Gerke, a 5' guard who averages 3.1 points per game. She will run the point and distribute the ball where it needs to go.

Daisy Huth, a 5'5" guard who averaged 6.2 points per game. She will be the shooting guard and provide the team with an outside shooting presence.

Jordyn Alpers, a 5'7" guard/forward, averages 6.4 points per game. She will provide the Ladies with an inside, outside game offensively.

Ava Marcum, a 5'8" forward, scores an average of 6.3 points per game. She will provide an inside presence on both offense and defense.

Addison Ray, a 5'8" guard has a 7 points per game average. She will make her presence on the inside, stepping out when needed to hit the 3s.

Alexia Gentsch, a 5'2" guard, is a newcomer to the program. She will add depth as a point guard.

Aubrey Thompson, 5'3" will take her position as a guard.

Hunter Scott, a 5'3" will also be seen at the guard position.

Tyleigh Kendrick, standing at 5'3" as a guard will come off the bench to provide even more depth.

Justice Case is the lone freshman. A 5'6" guard and forward adds even more depth, improving each time she hits the court.

Coach Mudd's goal for the team is to play in the championship game every tournament they are in and win conference and hopefully districts.

The Lady Dragons started their season with the Slater Jamboree. With a few games under their belt they will travel to Green Ridge Tuesday, Nov. 28, and will host Santa Fe, Friday, Dec. 1.

Wishing our Otterville Eagles & Lady Eagles
both a fantastic season!
