Become a safe boater

You bought a boat, wave runner and you are going to sail the open waters, party with your homies, show off your new toy, suns out guns out.

But driving a boat is just like a car, right? Do I really need to have boater education? What difference does it make?

WHAT IS BOATER EDUCATION?

Most states require that boaters complete an official and certified boater education course. The Boater Education Card (sometimes called a "boater's license") is proof that you have successfully completed your state's official and approved boating safety course.

WHY IS BOATER EDUCATION IMPORTANT?

Boating safety education is important because it helps reduce personal injury and property damage associated with the use of recreational boats. Boaters can keep themselves and their crew safe by learning about responsible boat operation, etiquette and the rules of the waterways.

Where boating instruction was known, 77 percent of deaths occurred on vessels where the operator had not received boating safety instruction. The Coast Guard recommends that all boaters take a boating safety course that meets the National Boating Education Standards prior to getting out on the water.

Thousands of boat crashes occur each year, and although a number of factors contribute, most collisions share similar characteristics and many may have been avoidable if the driver had taken additional precautions.

Without a doubt, the most common causes of boating accidents include not wearing a personal flotation device (PFD)/lifejacket, falling overboard, capsizing/collisions and operating a vessel while impaired by alcohol and/or drugs.

Boating Education requirements varies from state-to-state. Missouri's Boater Education Law went into effect

An on-the-water training student puts her newly-learned skills to the test.

Jan. 1, 2005. The law states that any person born after Jan. 1, 1984, must successfully pass a Missouri Boater Education class/test before operating any motorized vessel on the waters of the state.

On successful completion of a boating education class several insurance companies may offer a discount on your premium. There is actually received two advantages. The first with your insurance company and the second, but not least, you and your family became better and safer boaters.

The most-asked question is: is my boating education card good in every state? Good news! If you've successfully completed an official boating safety course such as boat-ed or ilearntoboat, your boater education card is welcome in every state that requires mandatory boater education.

The slogan, "Safe Boating is no Accident," encourages every boat skipper to become involved with the safe boating process by enrolling in one of these classes, but the process does not stop there. Safe boating is a family affair and together the learning process can not only provide the entire crew with valuable information, but become a fun learning experience for all.

Now, most boating education courses are in a classroom and/or behind a computer. This is good for the basis and learning the regulations/rules of the road. But, unless you put your book learning to real world use, actual on-water experience is the best enforcement of what you learned.

Suggestion is to locate a United States Coast Guard credentialed Captain, have them go out on your boat and explain what you need to have on board including, but not limited to, learning how to leave a dock, slip and how to dock your boat. Learn the difference in handling an outboard versus an inboard, how to perform close quarter turns and how to station a boat.

With classroom education and on-water time, your boating confidence and skill will pay off in a positive and fun boating experience.

Remember boating accidents happen because of bad choices and lack of knowledge.

Infamous public courses

CHAMPIONSHIP COURSES
EVERY GOLFER SHOULD PLAY

Have you ever wanted to play a golf course that has hosted a major golf championship but didn't think you could? Many of these facilities are strictly private, however, there are more than 30 around the world open to the public and waiting your arrival.

In the United States there are 18 of these championship courses, some within a day's drive of Lake of the Ozarks. Many have been around for a long time while others have been built recently and have hosted majors in the last decade. I have had the privilege to play three of these treasures: the Straits Course at Whistling Straits in Kohler, Wis., the Champions Course at PGA National in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. and the Donald Ross Course in French Lick, Ind.

Let's take a deep dive into some of these gems.

Paul Leahy played The Straits Course at Whistling Straits in Kohler, Wis., with a group of local golfers in 2011.

St. Andrews is the home of golf.

PHOTOS PROVIDED

First on my bucket list is the Old Course in St. Andrews, Scotland. The home of golf is most definitely a must-play for any avid player and historian of the game. Since 1873 the Old Course has hosted the Open Championship 30 times, with the most recent being in 2022. To play the ancient links would be a thrill and the memories would certainly last a lifetime. If you do plan the trip I would look at the other links venues on the R&A's Open Championship list of courses as they are all open to the public. You could play gems such as Muirfield Golf Club in Gullane, Scotland; Royal Troon Golf Club in Troon, Scotland (which is hosting the 2024 Open Championship); or the Royal Birkdale in South Port. I would play as many as I could. It would be a trip of a lifetime.

Closer to home, a great midwestern trip is the Keller Golf course in Maplewood, Minn. Keller hosted the 1932 and 1954 PGA Championships and the PGA tours St. Paul Open from 1930 to 1968. Another stop, this one within five hours of the Lake, is Kohler, Wis. and the Straits Course. This venue has spectacular views of Lake Michigan as you and your caddy walk the majestic links. Host site of the 2004, 2010 and 2015 PGA Championships, this course is infamous for the 2010 incident where Dustin Johnson was penalized on the 18th hole for grounding his club in a bunker to miss out on a playoff. If you ask nicely, the caddy will show you which bunker it was, as there are roughly 1,000 of them on the course. If three PGA Championships were not enough, the 2021 Ryder Cup was also contested here.

Hole No. 7 at Pebble Beach.

An hour from the Straits is Erin Hills Golf Course in Erin, Wis. Brooks Koepka won the 2017 U.S. Open on this Irish-inspired treeless site.

The last stop in the midwest is French Lick, Ind. to the Donald Ross Course. This grand old course was built in 1917 and hosted the 1924 PGA Championship where Ben Hogan took the title. A $5 million renovation project in 2005 brought the course back to its original layout and is definitely a must-play when you're in the area. I certainly enjoyed myself a few years back as I walked and played where some of the greats of the past had played.

If traveling to the East Coast, you could spend two weeks along the eastern seaboard playing some classic courses that have all hosted championships. From New Jersey to South Carolina, there are nine courses making this another great golf adventure if you're up to it. Some of the highlights are the Ocean Course at Kiawah Island, S.C. (site of the 1991 Ryder Cup and 2012 and 2021 PGA Championships) and Pinehurst No. 2 in Pinehurst, N.C. It hosted the 1936 PGA Championship and the 1999, 2005 and 2014 U.S. Opens. The last of Missouri's own Payne Stewart's Major Championships was won here at the 1999 U.S. Open. New York and Pennsylvania each have two venues on the list with Bethpage Black in Farmington, N.Y. at the top of the list. It hosted the 2019 PGA Championship, and the 2002 and 2009 U.S. Opens where Tiger Woods took home the crown in 2002.

No list of courses you can play would be complete without mentioning the Pebble Beach Golf Links in California, host site of six U.S. opens and one PGA Championship. Some of the greats of the game including Jack Nicklaus, Tom Watson and Tiger Woods have all won U.S. Opens at Pebble. I had the opportunity to attend the 2019 U.S. Open and the views were unbelievable. It is definitely in the top three of courses I have yet to play. The only other California Championship venue you can play is the South Course at Torey Pines in La Jolla which hosted the 2008 U.S. Open won by Tiger Woods.

There are 13 different states with facilities that have hosted men's major championship golf where you can book a tee time. No state has more than two such facilities where eight states only have one course. They are scattered throughout the country so wherever you find yourself there will probably be a course nearby. Some other U.S. courses are Chambers Bay in Tacoma, Wash.; The Bay and Pines courses at the Seaview Resort in Atlantic City, N.J.; Championship Course in Tanglewood Park, N.C.; The Red Course at Eisenhower Park in Long Island, N.Y.; and Cedar Crest in Dallas, Texas.

Going to every major league park or NFL stadium is impressive, but playing each of these 32 courses would be epic!

BRAVING THE COLD

The Lake of the Ozarks is typically viewed as a summer destination. But don't be fooled – there are still plenty of ways to get out-and-about in the winter months. For those who choose to stick around the Lake after temperatures begin to drop, there are many ways to plunge into the frigid fun (literally), as well as in-door activities to escape the cold – whatever floats your boat!

Some Plungers opt to go above and beyond for the fundraising event. This group of "Super Plungers" pledged to take the frigid plunge 24 times in 24 hours.

Plunging for a cause

Cooler weather can only mean one thing... It's almost Polar Plunge Season! Special Olympics Missouri will host its 29th annual Polar Plunge at the Lake of the Ozarks on Saturday, Feb. 24. This event offers frigid fun for the entire family – all while supporting a good cause. Participants can support local Special Olympics Missouri athletes by walking, running or crawling into the cold winter waters of Public Beach #2.

Make the Plunge a little more bearable by bringing friends and dressing in your best costumes. The day will offer a fun atmosphere with music, food and memories that will last a lifetime.

A PeeWee Plunge will also take place to allow kiddos (9 & under) the chance to showcase their bravery and contribute support.

If jumping into freezing water isn't your forte, you can also support Special Olympics Missouri athletes by walking, running or crawling a 5K in the frigid winter air.

The 2024 Polar Bear Strut will also be held Saturday, Feb. 24, at 10 a.m., starting at Grand Glaize Beach, 711 Public Beach Road in Osage Beach. All event proceeds benefit Special Olympics Missouri's year-round program of sports training and competition for children and adults with intellectual disabilities.

Last year, the Lake of the Ozarks Plunge welcomed 281 Plungers and raised more than $92,400.

All Plungers must raise a minimum of $75 by event day. Participants' $10 registration fee will apply towards the $75 minimum. Pee Wee Plungers (9 & under) don't require a registration fee, but must raise $25 by Plunge day in order to participate.

Strutters don't have to pay a registration fee, but must raise a minimum of $50 by event day to participate.

The day holds much more than just the plunge and strut! A chili cook-off and silent auction will also take place the day of the Plunge/strut. These events begin at 11 a.m. and are free to all Plungers – guests may participate for $5. Participants can also join in on the fun and showcase their creative costumes by participating in the Parade of Costumes before taking the Plunge.

There are so many opportunities to contribute to Special Olympics Missouri during this day of fun. Whether you plan to plunge, strut or put your cooking skills to the test – supporting local Special Olympics athletes is the ultimate goal.

About Special Olympics Missouri

Special Olympics Missouri is a year-round program of sports training and athletic competition for children and adults with intellectual disabilities. Thousands of athletes participate in 16 Olympic-type sports throughout the state. Special Olympics provides people with intellectual disabilities continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage and experience joy as they participate in the sharing of gifts and friendship with their fellow athletes, their family and friends and communities across Missouri.

Special Olympics Missouri is proud of their financial health, returning 78 percent of every dollar back to program services. They are recognized with these honors: Better Business Bureau A+ Charity Accreditation, Charity Navigator 4-star rating and Guidestar Gold Level. Special Olympics was also recently named Morning Consult's No. 4 most-trusted nonprofit.

New archery complex offers unique fun

The Lake area recently welcomed a new business that is sure to hit the bullseye for outdoor enthusiasts.

Shantane Strohschein, owner of Crazy Horn Outfitters Archery Complex, said she and her boyfriend, Jeff Farden, wanted to create a space that would serve all levels of archery shooters, while allowing the sport to be participated in year round.

Strohschein, a Wyoming native, is also the owner of Crazy Horn Outfitters BG 189, a licensed antelope hunting outfitter in Wyoming. She moved to the lake three years ago with Farden, also a Wyoming native, who now owns Bucks & Bulls Barber & Shave Shop in Greenview.

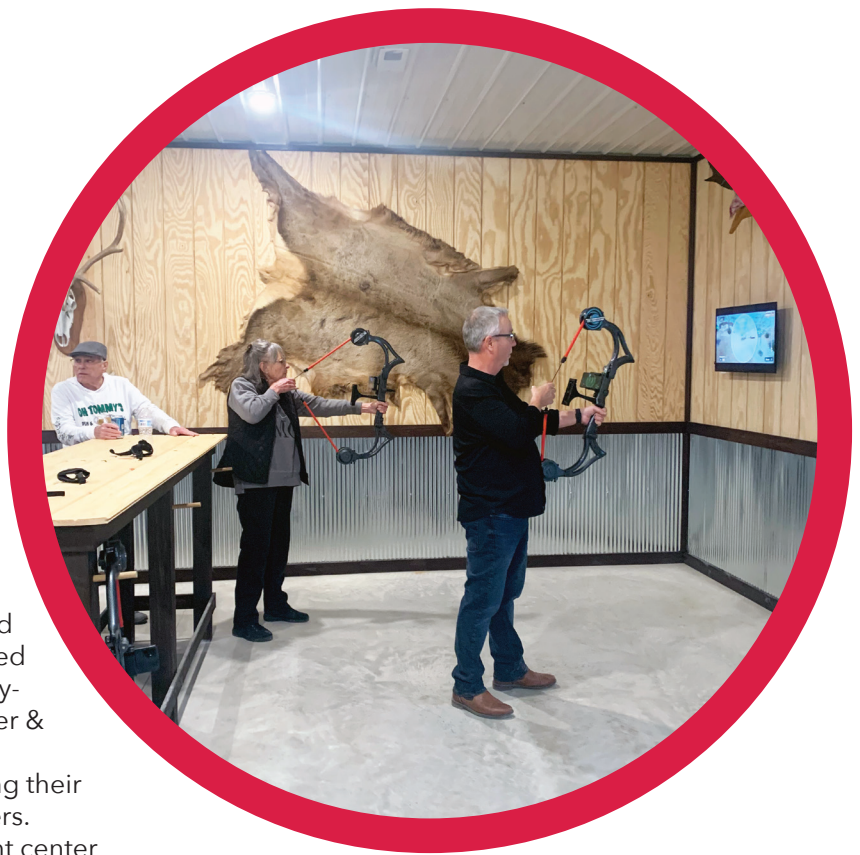

The couple loves archery hunting and shooting their bows and wanted to share that passion with others.

The archery complex, located in the new event center at Oh Tommy's Pub & Grill in Roach, offers a 30-yard 3D range, a virtual archery range and an archery simulator range.

In the 3D and virtual ranges, guests use their own equipment to shoot at targets. The archery simulator range, however, is much like a video game, archery trainer and much more, with the bows provided.

Thirty to 60-minute intervals can be booked, but Strohschein says longer visits are acceptable. They also offer monthly membership packages for those who wish to use the facility more frequently.

"Our goal is to have a place for all levels of shooters to feel comfortable to come in and learn new skills, or the avid archer to have a place out of the elements to practice," Strohschein said. "We created a fun place for families to come in together and shoot, all ages are welcome. Plan your kids' birthday parties or other small party events and you have the range to yourself. There is nothing like the complex in the surrounding Lake area and it will be a one-of-a-kind experience."

Crazy Horn Outfitters Archery Complex opened on Jan. 7. Business hours for the winter are Monday through Friday 3-8 p.m. and Saturday & Sunday 1-8 p.m. Strohschein recommends calling to book in advance at 573-319-4187, but walk-ins are welcome. The complex is located in Oh Tommy's Pub & Grill, 6285 MO-7, Roach.

Comfort Cravings

The brainchild of seasoned local chef Thomas Robinett, this unique spot dishes up comfort food and tasty creations.

The Lake area has gained a new place to gather and enjoy excellent fare. Table 33 is a dream come true for Thomas Robinett, who has been honing his skills as a chef at some of the most storied restaurants around the Lake, including JB Hook's, Ruthie D's, Old Kinderhook and Camden on the Lake.

"As a teenager, I worked in the fast-food industry until I was 18 and got my first real kitchen job," he explained. "I started at JB Hook's as a dishwasher and moved up very quickly to cook, sous chef and eventually chef. While I was at JB Hook's, I reached a ceiling of things I could learn and was feeling complacent. I actually thought of switching careers, then one July night we were extremely busy, more than normal and it was very challenging. I had so much fun it reminded me of how much I loved my job as a chef!"

He decided to dive in and attend college to learn as much as he could about cooking and the industry. He left his job as the executive chef at JB Hook's and took apprenticeship under Andre Torres through the American Culinary Federation (ACF) at Ruthie D's Restaurant in Lake Ozark. For nearly three years, he worked at Ruthie D's full time, Tuesday through Saturday. He then spent time with his family on Sundays and then late in the evening, drove to a stay with his good friend near Overland Park, Kan. Mondays were a full day of school from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. at Johnson County Community College.

"I would drive back after school and start the week over throughout the school sessions. After completing my apprenticeship and schooling I took the Certified Executive Chef exams and was certified through the ACF," he said. "Becoming a CEC was a big accomplishment for me and helped pave the way for my career."

Robinett took a sous chef position at Old Kinderhook just as the hotel was being built. It was not long before he was promoted to Executive Chef.

"I worked there for five years and had some of my most proud chef moments and proposed to my wife, Shelley, there," he said.

He left Old Kinderhook to take a position at Camden on the Lake Resort in 2017 and worked there for the past five years. That's when he decided to take the leap of running his own restaurant.

"I guess you can say I am home grown," Robinett said. "I attended Osage and Eldon High Schools, and I have such fond memories from those three properties and school. I have developed so many great relationships. There are too many people that have impacted my life and career in a positive way to name. I am very grateful for all of them."

About that name, Table 33. He noted that at the first restaurant where he was chef, there was a small two-top table right outside the kitchen. When that table was sat, the kitchen crew would all call out "Table 33," which meant they must turn down the radio and watch what they said because those at that table could hear them.

He has a desire to make his restaurant a unique experience for guests is evident. He hopes for each diner to have a great meal that makes them feel comfort.

The menu at Table 33 has a variety of unique options. From various salads big enough to be your meal to sandwiches, entrees, soups and sides, every dish is crafted with its own distinctive flavors.

"There is no greater joy for a chef than making people happy with food. I love the thought of people creating memories at Table 33 with their family and friends the same way I did with my grandmother at Pero Brothers," he mused.

With winter upon us, there is no better time to have a seat at one of the tables at Table 33 and be prepared for scrumptious pleasure.
